QUAKER CITY BACKS JUDGE PENNYPACKER

Not Ward Workers, but Citizens, Indorse His Candidacy

THE BEST PEOPLE ARE REPRESENTED

COMMITTEE OF FIFTY WILL WORK THE STATE

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 21.—The friends of Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker this afternoon formally presented the eminent jurist as an available and desirable candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. The meeting was called to order by City Treasurer Moore, chairman of the Pennypacker committee.

The inauguration of the campaign was remarkable in several respects, the most notable being the absence of those regarded as "practical" politicians, who direct ward battles and are held responsible for results. Insurance Commissioner Durham did not attend, neither were any of his lieutenants present, except George W. McCurdy, president of common council, and he was there as a member of the bar, as was also Representative Willard. The audience was largely composed of lawyers, many who have been associated with Judge Pennypacker a score or more of years.

The list of vice presidents, 200 names, was representative of the best of the city's professional and commercial life, though politically they have differed in the past. There was not an unkind or uncomplimentary reference to any candidate.

Ambassador's Tower's Tribute.

Chairman Moore introduced Charlemagne Tower, ambassador to Russia, as chairman. Mr. Tower said:

It is a source of profound gratification to me that upon my return home after an absence of more than five years, I find myself immediately united with you in an earnest effort to serve and advance the best interests of the great state of Pennsylvania. The selection of governor must not be allowed to be warped by sectional or factional influences, for it bears equally upon all parts of the community and all sections of the state. It must be discussed by the Republicans of Pennsylvania with that breadth and liberality which characterize the Republican principles themselves. This, I apprehend is what we come here for today.

We are hoping to see a brilliant Republican victory next November. We intend to prepare for it now, by proposing to our fellow-voters when they come to the polls, as a candidate for the office of governor, a Pennsylvanian who represents the whole Republican party and a Republican who is acceptable to the whole people throughout the commonwealth.

Gentlemen, the Republican ranks afford us such a candidate, one of our own fellow citizens, known to you all, whose qualities have been tested by long service, in peace and in war, in private life as well as uppon the bench of the court of common pleas. We propose as our candidate this gentleman, who has been universally esteemed as a citizen and respected as a judge. He will be so also as governor of Pennsylvania. I have the honor to name to you the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker. (Applause.)

A Man to Harmonize Factions.

Col. A. Louden Snowden, the next speaker, said:

The duty of all good citizens to participate in primary party movements is recognized as essential to the maintenance of our institutions. This truth, although generally accepted, is, unfortunately, but rarely acted upon. The result is that as ours is a government by parties, the party organizations often fall into the hands of those who have a personal, selfish interest to serve.

We may take it for granted, however, that where the organs of public opinion and leading citizens concur in the wisdom of a public measure or in the fitness of a citizen for a public place, their conclusions are generally correct. If this be true, we have every reason for congratulation on the wisdom of the suggestion that Judge Pennypacker be the candidate of the Republican party for governor, as the mention of his name has received from the press and public a most hearty approval. Without disparaging the claims of others who aspire to this high honor, all candid men will admit that the name of Judge Pennypacker, who is free from mere partisan affiliations, will go as far, if not farther, to unite our party throughout the state as, perhaps, that of any other citizen that might be named.

In my judgment one of the greatest evils that could befall our country is that through divided Republican counsels the old enemy, clad in a coat of many colors, should take possession of the government at Washington. The spirit recently manifested in Congress and by the Democratic press particularly through the south, if hostility to our soldiers who are fighting the battles of the republic amid many and trying difficulties, is only a revival of the copperhead spirit, that with vituperation and misrepresentation assaulted the leaders of our party who were the only hope of the country between the years 1861 and '65.

Plea for a United Front.

This great Republican state must set an example of united action. All bickerings and misunderstandings must be relegated to the past, and we, as a party, must present a united front to the common political enemy. All shades of opinion, all subdivisions, such as have recently existed, can easily, under such a leader as is proposed, merge into a homogenous party, over which there will shine but one banner, upon which will be subscribed the principles which we have maintained since Lincoln was elected until this hour.

Earnest tributes to the ability, integrity and personal achievements of Judge Pennypacker were given by Attorneys Hampton L. Carson, Peter Boyd, ex-Mayor Charles F. Warwick, and William A. Stanley. The career of the judge as a soldier, lawyer, historian and jurist was eloquently sketched. Ex-Mayor Warwick, who has given but little attention to politics since David Martin lost control of local affairs, presented Philadelphia's claim to the honor. He denied the asser-

POWERFUL SQUADRON GREETS THE GAULOIS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—In the name of the president and people of the United States greeting was given today to the French battleship Gaulois, whose mission is to participate in the ceremonies of the unveiling in Washington of the statue of Comte de Rochambeau.

The Gaulois, which had been met at the capes by the cruiser Olympia, flagship of Rear Admiral Higginson, and the battleships Kearsage and Alabama, was escorted to Annapolis roads, where the Indiana and Dolphin lay in waiting. The Dolphin had on board the president's commission, consisting of Third Assistant Secretary of State Peirce, Lieut. Col. Bingham and Commander Rodgers, the last-named wearing on his heart the medal of the Legion of Honor, and the representatives of the ambassador of France, M. de Margerie, first secretary of the French embassy; Capt. Vignal, military attache; Lieutenant Commander de Faramond, naval attache, and M. Hermite, a junior secretary of the French embassy.

Shortly after noon the shore battery at the naval academy belched forth a salute of welcome. The Gaulois promptly responded with 21 guns. The president's commission and the representatives of the French embassy repaired without delay to the French man-of-war.

Capt. de Surgy, commanding the Gaulois, with his staff, was at the gangway to receive the visitors and escorted them to the after part of the main deck, where Gen. Brugere, Vice Admiral Fournier and other members of the French mission were standing. There were a few words of introduction and then Assistant Secretary Peirce said:

"The commission appointed by the president begs to welcome to the United States the representatives of France sent to participate in the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the statue of the illustrious Rochambeau. I am also charged to express the hope that the members of the mission will enjoy their stay in America and will carry away pleasant memories of our country."

"On behalf of the president of the French republic," Gen. Brugere replied, "I desire to express thanks for the handsome reception that has been accorded us both by the president's commission and by the magnificent squadron which met and escorted us to Annapolis. I shall be indebted to the commission if it will inform the president of the gratitude we feel for our cordial reception."

Gen. Brugere presented the commission to his staff and other members of the mission and cordially greeted the representatives of the French embassy.

A few minutes after the commission departed Gen. Brugere, Vice Admiral Fournier and their staffs paid a return visit of ceremony.

Between the two masts of the Gaulois tonight are a spread American eagle and a French cock, representing the two nations.

The party of distinguished French guests, including the Count and Countess de Rochambeau and Count de Lafayette, spent a comparatively quiet day at Washington today at their private apartments at the Arlington. The program of festivities does not begin here until tomorrow, the main events of today occurring at Annapolis.

TALES OF HORROR FROM SPECTATORS OF STRICKEN CITY

Member of Relief Expedition Tells of the Ghastly Groups of Dead That He Saw.

ONE DOMESTIC TABLEAU

(Special Correspondence of The Gazette.)
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

Bridgetown, Barbadoes, May 13.—From St. Pierre the relief expedition sent from this city the day after the disaster has returned, bringing tales of horror. Dr. C. J. Manning, who went on the Solent, gives this account of what he saw:

"We knew before leaving Bridgetown that the disaster at St. Pierre was one that had shocked the world; but we were not prepared for what we found. Steaming into the roadstead, we saw the entire city in ruins, with no sign of life about the place. Smoke was rising from the blackened walls, and ashes sifted down upon the deck of the Solent. As we neared the shore the wrecks of nine ships were seen, besides the Roraima, which was still smoking.

"On land, wherever we turned, there were dead bodies to be seen, scorched, blackened, hideous. The greater number were on their faces, some with their heads between their hands, as if to avoid the stifling vapor which suffocated them.

"Lying on a deckhouse that floated to the shore was a body which we believe was that of Capt. Muggah of the Roraima. Not far away lay a fine specimen of a man, evidently a sailor, who had, perhaps, floated ashore on wreckage, believing that he had escaped the dangers of the burning ship and was safe. He had pulled his jumper over his head to avoid the suffocating fumes, but all to

MAY GET ENTIRE SYSTEM

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

St. Petersburg, May 21.—A concession for the establishment of an electric railroad from St. Petersburg to a suburb of the city was awarded today to Murry A. Verner of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Verner's friends regard the granting of this concession as an indication of favorable action with regard to a concession embracing the entire surface traction system of St. Petersburg.

Mr. Verner offered to take over the entire surface traction system of St. Petersburg and to form a company with a capital stock of 100,000,000 roubles (about $51,000,000), to operate the lines. H. Sellers McKee is associated with Mr. Verner in the enterprise.

CUMBERLAND, MD., May 21.—(Special.)—While the presiding elder of the Frederick district of the Methodist Episcopal church was conducting a prayer meeting he was compelled to dispense with the service long enough to marry Daniel Orin and Grace Harding, the couple having arrived on a night train from Braddock, Pa. There was a large audience.

The unusual ceremony was occasioned by the fact that all the Protestant ministers were holding prayer meetings and the couple was in a hurry to wed, so as to return home on the first train.

MELLONS HAVE TAKEN INTEREST IN A NEW LINE

Big Financial Concern Has a Place in Standard Steel Car Co.

W. L. MELLON IS MADE A DIRECTOR

The Mellons have interested themselves in the steel car business. J. M. Hansen, president of the Standard Car Wheel Company, last night confirmed the report that W. L. Mellon and Henry Aiken had been elected directors of the company.

"It is the intention," said Mr. Hansen, "that both of these gentlemen will take an active interest in the management. Mr. Mellon's reputation in financial circles is well known, and Mr. Aiken is generally conceded to be one of the best authorities in the engineering line in the country.

"There is no truth whatever in the rumors which have been circulating in regard to increasing, at the present time, the capital stock of the company in order to double our capacity. This matter was carefully considered before we organized this company. We have sufficient capital to insure the erection of our plant and to provide for all necessary working capital. Our buildings are so designed that without interfering in any way with the manufacture of cars we will be able to enlarge them and increase our capacity at any time.

Mellons Add Much Strength.

"Our original intention, and the conservative estimate which we placed upon the capacity of the plant, was for 50 complete cars a day. We now feel that, without altering our plant in any way, we can turn out from 65 to 75 cars each day, of which 25 will be wooden cars with steel under-frames. Reports from the mechanical department show that all of our presses, punches and general equipment are either completed or so far advanced in manufacture that there is no cause why they should not be delivered before they will be needed. I was at the works today and found things are progressing as well as I could hope for. We will undoubtedly have an ideal plant ready for operation not later than August 15."

The recent retirement of the Mellon interests from the street railway field caused considerable speculation as to the direction they would take next. The announcement by Mr. Hansen that they will hereafter be actively engaged in the furtherance of the steel car industry settles all doubts as to this matter.

W. L. Mellon has been recognized in Pittsburgh financial circles as one of the brightest and most capable of the younger money makers of the city, and his affiliation with the new car company will undoubtedly add considerable strength to the organization, especially as it is understood that he will take an active part in the affairs of the company.

Work Progressing Rapidly.

The present board of directors of the Standard company is composed of A. R. Fraser, John M. Hansen and H. J. Gearhart of Pittsburgh; L. C. Weir of New York, president of the Adams Express Company, and Edwin Hawley, president of the Iowa Central and of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railways. Messrs. Mellon and Aiken now join these gentlemen.

The foundations for the Standard's works at Butler are all in, nearly all the structural material has been delivered on the ground and the work of erection has commenced. The extensive steam grading has been finished, over two miles of switches have been laid and in every detail of the work matters are ahead of schedule time.

The main building is to be 1,660 feet long by 240 feet wide. The ground dimensions of the power house will be 750x50 feet; of the wooden car department, 400x100 feet. The entire group of buildings will cover about 40 acres.

BOTH VOLCANOES AGAIN BELCHING OUT DESTRUCTION

Mont Pelee Bombarding Fort de France With Hot Stones and Burying Ruins of St. Pierre Under Boulders.

Fort de France, Martinique, May 21.—Another day of terror has been spent by the people of Martinique. For six hours yesterday Fort de France was literally bombarded by Mont Pelee. Stones, many of them incandescent, rained upon the city from the clouds. Houses were destroyed and fires were started in many quarters. With the stones fell hot mud and ashes. The air was so filled with volcanic dust that it was barely possible to breathe. At times it seemed as if suffocation must be the fate of all who could not be taken on board the ships in the harbor.

While the loss of life has not been great, the eruption yesterday was far worse than that of May 8, when the 30,000 inhabitants of St. Pierre perished. For many hours the explosions were so heavy that it seemed as if the island would be shaken from its foundation.

Down upon the ruins of St. Pierre fell great boulders, all red hot, that battered what was left of the unfortunate city beyond all semblance of its former self. Ashes fell in torrents, and it is now reported that the site of the city resembled a great, gray plain.

Braving Starvation in Mountains.

Thousands have left Fort de France. Some have gone into the mountains, to almost certain starvation, preferring that to the fate that would be theirs if the lava of Mont Pelee buried them in the ruins of the city. Others have gone to nearby islands, there to depend upon the charity of strangers.

Every ship in the harbor is constantly crowded with those who would flee at the next appearance of great danger. Clustered about the ships are small boats filled with natives, who beg to be taken up. Hundreds, finding it impossible to obtain boats to take them to the ships, have swam out, risking their lives in the water to avoid the danger which fills them with more terrible dread.

One who took this mode of escape was Richard Kadish of Westminster Park, Manchester, England. Mr. Kadish has been traveling through Venezuela with William R. Grace, Jr., of New York, and had arrived here a few days ago. When the culminating explosion came yesterday morning and fear struck the heart of every person Mr. Kadish rushed to the shore and plunged into the water. He succeeded in removing his shoes and then kicked off his trousers. Being then little weighted with clothing he struck out for the British cruiser Indefatigable, which was nearly a mile off shore, with steam up and ready to put to sea. He reached the ship safely, though much exhausted. He remained until evening, when he returned to shore, the explosions having perceptibly lessened.

Yankee Jack Tars' Bravery.

In the excitement time is found to give praise to Lieut. McCormick and the American officers and men under his command, who have never lost their presence of mind and are working bravely to save those unable to save themselves. The Potomac, which Lieut. McCormick commands, was ordered to run down the coast to make observations of Mont Pelee in eruption. Just as on Monday the ship was taken down under the volcano, where it remained until driven away by the flow of lava, which reaches far out into the sea.

Lieut. McCormick brought back a report that new fissures have formed in the sides of Pelee and from them the lava flows in broad streams. All along the shore near St. Pierre the water is boiling and such curtains of steam rise that a view of the land is possible only when the wind blows with sufficient force to lift them for a few seconds.

St. Pierre is described by Lieut. McCormick as driven into the earth. About half the city has been buried deeply under ashes, which constantly fall. The heat from the volcano was so great, and the Potomac went so close inshore, that she returned with the paint on her sides blistered.

On the way back from St. Pierre, Lieut. McCormick saw a great crowd of men and women on the shore, signalling wildly for help. All were taken on board and brought to Fort de France. Those thus rescued were almost starved. They were turned over to the relief committee.

Whirling Clouds of Fire.

The panic was greatest yesterday, when the sun rose, shining faintly through the haze of ashes. The skies were filled with rolling and whirling clouds that were fiery red. Many believed that the flames were about to fall upon them from the heavens, and the terror that ensued was pitiful. Quickly the streets were filled. Soldiers and sailors mixed freely with the citizens, all frightened witless. All struggled to get to a place of safety, they knew not where. All believed that where they were was the place of greatest danger.

Some cursed in their frenzy, thinking it was prayers they were uttering. Others fell on their knees in the streets and besought protection from above. Few were able to refrain from tears. Then, when the panic subsided a little there was a general scramble for the mountains or the water front.

When the Potomac started for St. Pierre the French cruiser Suchet went outside and made a tour of the island in the opposite direction. She passed St. Pierre but had no part in the work of rescue of the refugees, who had been driven to the shore by the storm from the volcano.

When the two steamships returned to Fort de France they found the panic here even greater than when they went away. There has been a recurrence of the detonations, and stones had again fallen upon the city.

A steam launch from the Cincinnati picked up 100 persons who were struggling in the water and took them to the Suchet. Scores of others were taken to the Cincinnati and to the Potomac.

Lava Destroys Water Supply.

Supplies are here in plenty for the present, but great suffering has been caused by the lack of water. All the natural water supplies have been polluted by the lava, which has developed sulphuric acid. Water is being doled out from the ships, and word has been sent to nearby islands for a greater supply.

Extravagant prices are demanded for transportation. Those fortunate enough to own small boats that are seaworthy to make the run from here to the nearest islands are making themselves rich by taking away those who desire to escape the wrath of Mont Pelee. Hundreds have gone and thousands are waiting for an opportunity to get away.

Two men of great daring penetrated the island yesterday far enough to get a glimpse of Mont Pelee from inland. They report that the entire northern half of the island is running with fire. The volcano is in constant convulsions. The men say that as the clouds of smoke and fire lift the mountain can be seen throwing out quantities of lava and hot mud, which is so liquid that it flows like water and is filling the valleys with lakes, from which a sickening sulphurous vapor arises.

Never before was there a burial such as was today given to the body of Thomas T. Prentis, the American consul at St. Pierre. The body, recovered from the ruins, was taken to the cemetery back of Fort de France. There were brief services at the grave, led by Capt. McLean of the Cincinnati. About the grave stood officers, marines and sailors from the Cincinnati and the Potomac.

Destruction Threatens the Party.

The gloom was made more intense by the knowledge, held by each one present, that his own life was in imminent danger. Salute was fired by the volcano that had brought destruction upon the consul. While the service was being read there was a succession of deep, sullen detonations that might have come from great guns belonging to a mighty fleet. As the grave was being filled a cloud of ashes came over the city and a darkness as of midnight followed.

With 350 tons of relief supplies on board, the steamship Regina Regente arrived this morning.

A tide higher than any ever before known is recorded. It is reported that the town of Basse Pointe has been destroyed. The steamship Horton has arrived at Pointe-a-Pitre from Fort de France, bringing 200 half dressed women and children. The Salvador is expected there later, bringing many more refugees. Many believe the culminations of the explosions that seem to be growing worse will be the destruction of the entire island of Martinique.

The captain of the Horton reports that when he passed St. Pierre the shores seemed one living wave of fire.

La Soufriere Again in Eruption.

A dispatch from Kingstown, St. Vincent, dated Monday, tells of another violent eruption of La Soufriere, which began Sunday night.

While worshipers were returning from church at 8:30 p. m. an alarming, luminous cloud suddenly ascended many miles high, in the north of the island, and drifted sluggishly to the northeast. Incessant lightning fell on the mountain. The thunderous rumbling in the craters lasted for two hours and then diminished until they became mere murmurings. The remainder of the night was clear. Ashes fell from 10 o'clock until midnight.

The inhabitants were frenzied at the outbreak. They ran from the streets into the open country, crying and praying for preservation. No one on the island of St. Vincent slept that night.

The continuous agitation of the volcano and the absence of rain has caused the vicinity of the afflicted villages to look like portions of the desert of Sahara. A thick, smoky cloud overspreads the island. All business is suspended in Kingstown, the streets are empty and everyone is terror-stricken.

On Monday there was an alarming report that Erham mountain, an old and apparently extinct crater, is showing signs of activity. This volcano is only six miles from Kingstown.

FLORIDA SHAKEN.

Earthquake Shocks Accompanied by Sharp Reports Somewhat Like Distant Cannonading.

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., May 21.—Almost continuous shocks, presumably of earthquake, were felt here from 9 until midnight last night. The earthquake was accompanied by a succession of short but decisive reports like distant cannonading, seemingly from far out at sea. The sounds were unlike thunder, having no reverberating roll, and were accompanied by decided tremors, while the sky in the southeast was suffused with a glow.

The reports came at intervals of, perhaps, three minutes, and persons who remember the earthquake at Charleston say the noises were very similar to the subterranean noises accompanying that occurrence. The sound traveled to the southeast.

The night was perfectly clear. A number of citizens gathered on the sea wall and timed the intervals between the reports.

CRATER IN A ROCK.

Terry Islet, Off Martinique, Sends Out Fire and Smoke.

NEW YORK, May 21.—(Special.)—New volcanoes have been created in the Caribbean country. Capt. Morton Hansen of the Talisman, which arrived today from Barbadoes, reports that a crater has opened on Diamond rock, an isolated island off the southern end of Martinique. He says:

"As we passed Diamond rock I saw a sheet of flame flare out from the side. I thought it was a steamer burning a signal. We waited until daylight, when we could see that fire and smoke were issuing from a recently-formed crater."

GOOD ADVICE TO YOUNG MINISTERS

Diplomas Presented to 28 Graduates of Allegheny Theological Seminary Last Night.

The Rev. Dr. J. A. Grier, president of the faculty of the Allegheny Theological seminary of the United Presbyterian church, delivered himself of some fatherly advice last night to 28 young students about to start into the vineyard of the Lord. The address was made in the First United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, where the 77th annual commencement of the seminary was held. These are some extracts from his address: "Don't take your sermons with you to dinner; don't imagine the ways of a traveling evangelist suited to a settled pastor; don't make pretense at elaborate side show ceremony, but preach the word of God; don't imagine the people like novelties mixed up with religious exercise; don't pick up your theology in the streets; don't say startling things, they really don't sound well; don't forget to pay your store bills."

The diplomas were presented by Dr. Grier, assisted by the Rev. Dr. D. A. McClenahan. Of the 28 young ministers, some 22 have received calls. James Howard Boyd, a son of the Rev. Dr. J. C. Boyd of Mt. Lebanon church, will go to Egypt and G. H. Sevilte of Bellevue, to China. They will leave for their work in foreign lands early in July.

The names of the new ministers are:

Watson Samuel Boyce, Sardis, N. C.; James Howard Boyd, Mt. Lebanon, Pa.; Samuel Brown Greenwich, N. Y.; Joseph McKee Caldwell, Indiana, Pa.; Robert Ross Caldwell, Smyrna, S. The Newburg seminary is not in operation and has a fund of $60,000, which is controlled by the New York synod of the United Presbyterian church. Drs. W. H. McMillen and J. K. McClurkin and Prof. John McNaugher were appointed a committee to visit the New York synod and present the consolidation proposition.

A donation of $10,000 was received from Mrs. Thomas Jamison and her son William of Allegheny, the proceeds to be used as prizes for proficiency in Greek theology and Biblical history.

FESSENDEN TALKED TO NEWSPAPER FRIENDS

Wireless Inventor Told Many Interesting Things, Some in Confidence, at the Press Club.

Prof. Reginald A. Fessenden, who is in Pittsburgh on important patent business in connection with his wireless telegraph and telephone inventions and ideas, entertained members of the Pittsburgh Press club at the club house yesterday evening with a general talk on his inventions, achievements and purposes, telling much that is not to be announced publicly for some time. He said in relation to his first demonstration that the voice could be conveyed by wireless system through ordinary telephone receivers and transmitters with the aid of his attachments, that the experiment took place two years ago at Rock Point, N. Y. The instruments were then a mile apart, but now the wireless attachments have been so improved that their power is 25,000 fold that of the instrument employed then.

"I would like to correct an impression that we intend to displace the ordinary existing city telephone," he said. "We have simply perfected our selective system so that such a thing would be possible but hardly practical, since it would only give about the same service as now at much greater cost. Present intention in the application of the wireless telephone is to use it aboard ships, 50 miles apart or 50 miles from shore, in cases where it would be too expensive to carry operators for the wireless telegraph."

MATCHED AT LAST.

Jeffries and Fitz Sign Articles and Will Fight in 'Frisco on July 4.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—James J. Jeffries, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, and Robert Fitzsimmons met this afternoon and came to an agreement to fight for the world's championship. Fitzsimmons insisted that he would not fight unless permitted to wear surgical bandages to protect his hands, and after some parley on this point Jeffries receded from the position he has assumed recently in objection to the use of bandages. The articles of agreement will to all practical purposes, be identical with the articles signed in New York some months ago.

After the two men had announced their satisfaction with the articles, it was mutually agreed that the documents would be signed on Friday afternoon. Seven clubs submitted bids for the fight, and after a brief discussion Fitzsimmons told Jeffries that he would leave the matter of selection of a club to him, with the result that Jeffries after some deliberation, expressed the opinion that the bid of the San Francisco club, offering 70 per cent of the gross receipts, was the best. Fitzsimmons accepted this suggestion and it was agreed that the contest should be held under the auspices of the club mentioned.

The date of the contest will be decided later, but it is generally believed that July 4 will be the day determined upon.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE and CHRONICLE TELEGRAPH.

Send all ballots to Excursion Department, Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. Ballots not legibly filled out will not be counted. Last ballot will be printed May 31, 1902. Ballots from Sunday Gazette count three votes.

ALL BALLOTS MUST BE IN BY MIDNIGHT, JUNE 7.

NO ONE CAN GUESS THE WINNERS.

Soon the teachers' contest for the grand tour of Europe will close. No person knows who will be the winners, but everyone wants to know. The important announcement can be made soon after June 7, if our friends will be prompt about sending in their ballots. Some of them are. They are sending in as fast as they get them. To such we are duly grateful. Some appear to be holding back. We hope they will not continue that policy. If all will send in their ballots of the two series, K and L, every two or three days, the enumerators will be able to keep right up with the work of counting. Then, when the voting closes, the totals can be speedily footed up and the winners announced. The motto now should be to "vote early and often," and it is no more difficult than to accumulate huge bundles of ballots before voting at all.

TALES OF HORROR FROM STRICKEN CITY

no purpose. Not one living soul had escaped.

"Just around a corner from where the bodies of the sailors lay were 6 bodies in a heap. All must have been running to escape death, and were overpowered in the twinkling of an eye. There was the body of a slender girl, hardly in her teens. Just beyond her lay the bodies of two, evidently mother and daughter, their hands tightly clasped, showing how sudden death had come upon them.

"There was a body of a boy who had just thrust a crust of bread into his mouth. Death had stricken him as his teeth crushed upon the bread. A little further down the street were the horses and buggy belonging to Mr. Barnes, manager of the bank. The horse hid tucked his head under its body in a vain effort to escape the deadly fumes.

"Everywhere was the same awful story of destruction and death. Side by side lay a young woman and a mother who had clasped her babe to her breast and had knelt over it, hoping, no doubt, to save its life, though death came to her."

HEART-BROKEN WORDS HEARD FROM THE TOMB

Imprisoned Miners Spend Their Time Waiting for Death in Writing Letters to Friends.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

COAL CREEK, TENN., May 21.—The latest estimate as to loss of life in the Fraterville coal mine disaster is 226. The last bodies found were 13 in an entry. Five of them had written letters before death came to their relief. J. L. Powell wrote:

We are shut up in the head of the entry with a little air and bad air coming on us fast. It is now about 12 o'clock. Dear Ellen, I have to leave you in bad condition. Now, dear wife, put your trust in the Lord to help you and my little children. Ellen, take care of my little darling Tilly. Little Elbert said that he had trusted in the Lord. Charlie Woods say that he will be safe in heaven and if he never sees the outside world again he will meet his mother in heaven. We are not hurt, but only perished for want of air. There are but a few of us here and I don't know where the other men are. Elbert, this son's gide for you all to meet him in heaven. Tell all the children to meet with us both.

Do the best you can with the children. We are all praying for air to support us, but it is coming so bad. Howard, Elbert said for you to wear his shoes and clothing. Ellen, I want you to live right and come to heaven. Raise the children the best you can. Oh, how I wish to be with you. Good-bye, good-bye. Bury me and Elbert in the same grave. My little Eddie, good-bye; Jimmie, goodbye; goodbye, Hettie. It is 20 minutes after 2. There are a few of us alive yet. Oh, God, for one more breath. Ellen, remember me as long as you live. Good-bye, darling.

John Hendon, one of the boy helpers, wrote:

Dear darling mother and sister—I am going to heaven. I want you all to meet me in heaven. Tell all your friends to meet me there and tell the church I have gone to heaven. Tell my friends not to worry over me, for I am in sight of heaven. Oh, dear, stay at home, or at your father's, and pay all debts if possible, and bury me at Pleasant Hill, if it suits you all. Bury me in black. It is now about 1:30 o'clock. Good-bye, dear father, mother, brother and friends. I have not suffered much.

The other letters found were brief farewells to family and friends.

So far 141 bodies have been recovered. Not one has been found alive.

GOLIAD, TEX., May 21.—The number of victims of the tornado has now reached 135. Nine deaths occurred in the courthouse today and a number of bodies were found. Sixty negroes and 47 whites have been buried.

QUAKER CITY BACKS JUDGE PENNYPACKER

tion that jealousy and friction exist between the cities and the country districts.

Robert Beath presented these resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The political conditions now prevailing in Pennsylvania demand that the Republican party, upon whose supremacy the great commercial and industrial interests of the state so largely depend, shall have, in the approaching contest for governor, a standard bearer of the highest type of citizenship, whose integrity and public spirit shall promote party unity, strengthen the congressional and legislative districts of the state and inspire general confidence; and,

Whereas, The Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, during his service of more than 12 years as a judge of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia, has commanded the confidence and good opinion of all citizens who have generally indorsed him without regard to faction or to party; and,

Whereas, His devotion to the state and nation were shown by Judge Pennypacker during the civil conflict, when as a boy he tendered his services to his country and aided in rolling back the tide of invasion at Gettysburg; and,

Whereas, In his many writings, researches and historical contributions, he has applied himself with patriotic pride and industry to the championing of the true worth of the citizenship of Pennsylvania; and,

Whereas, The city of Philadelphia, with its population, its wealth and ways material, has added to advancing Republican success and has never been accorded a Republican governor, while royally supporting candidates from other localities; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the citizens of Philadelphia, in public meeting assembled, believing in his devotion to duty, in his zeal as a defender of the commonwealth, in his learning and ability as a jurist, and in the conviction above faction which his nomination and election would obtain with all the people, with a desire for that party unity which insures the best and most prosperous government to both state and nation, do hereby most heartily and cordially indorse the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker as a candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, and request the delegates elected from the city of Philadelphia to give him their undivided support in the Republican convention.

Resolved, That a committee of 50 be appointed by the chair to make known the action of this meeting throughout the commonwealth and to invite the co-operation of similar committees in the various counties of the state.

Chairman Tower said the committee provided would be named in a few days.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—(Special.)—"All the delegates that they secured last week were part of the Dauphin county delegation," said Senator Quay tonight, referring to the claim of the Stone machine and Attorney General Elkin through their Philadelphia organ, that more than 30 delegates were secured for Elkin last week.

The senator's attention was called to a statement by Representative Jack that Mr. Elkin would secure the solid delegation from Allegheny county. In reply he said:

"That claim is about as well-founded as if it was claimed that Mr. Elkin would secure all the delegates in the state."

Senator Quay has a personal acquaintance with all the delegates elected and knows how ill-founded are the claims put forth.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Is Daily Saving Precious Lives After Pronounced Failures of Physicians.

The months just passed of the present year have brought bereavements and dark clouds of sorrow to many homes in our land. Fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers have been forever removed by the grim reaper, death. The large majority of such could have been saved had their friends given them Paine's Celery Compound instead of the worthless medicines the sick ones were forced to swallow.

In many families a too lavish obedience to medical dictation kept the true life saver from the sick and dying ones. Past records of marvelous cures and victories wrought by Paine's Celery Compound were ignored by medical men; in a word, it was unprofessional in their estimation to introduce the life-giving Compound.

Ah! Remorse is now doing its quiet but effective work, and those most closely interested are suffering for their neglect.

Will you, dear reader, allow some dear relative or friend to pass from life without making an effort to save the perishing one by Paine's Celery Compound? The virtues and powers of Dr. Phelps' prescription are wondrously far-reaching and mighty. Even though your friends have suffered long and have come to that point where the physician is helpless to save, even then there is a blessed hope if Paine's Celery Compound is used.

The desperate cases cured in the past and the number of precious lives saved is the bright, the living, proof that Paine's Celery Compound makes sick people well.

Shirtwaists and Shirtwaist Suits.

The adjustment of stocks from week to week makes possible such values as are quoted below. And though the garments offered are much underprice, not one iota of style, nothing of daintiness, nor of that indescribable quality by which anything high-class is measured, has been sacrificed to price.

The standard we have established (and maintained), and which you look for here has not and never will be lowered.

We are always ready to take advantage of market conditions that will enable us to offer the best in women's apparel at less than regular value without lowering the quality or the tone, now marked features of this department.

The Suits.

Shirtwaist Suits at $3: Pretty white lawn with graduated polka dots in black; waist has the effective bishop sleeve and soft stock; flounce skirt. Another style at $3 has gored skirt and handsomely tucked waist.

Shirtwaist Suits at $5: Fine chambray in blue, pink, green, slate and brown; waist in broad shoulder effect with bands of same material and piped edges; narrow cuff, bishop sleeve, neatly trimmed; skirt with flare flounce headed with bands of same cloth. A very effective costume.

Shirtwaist Suits at $5: Black and white meteore combination, the entire suit handsomely trimmed with fine white pique; cuffs, stock and belt ornamented to match; flounce skirt. Altogether a charming tropical suit.

Shirtwaist Suits at $6.50: A number of fetching styles. One style in white lawn is exquisite in its daintiness. Waist with cluster tucking and briar stitching, and the new shirtwaist sleeve; skirt with gored top and flare flounce. All seams are finished in briar or open-work stitching.

Visitors to the Shirtwaist section of the second floor will find displayed on a large table a very extensive collection of fine waists, from which choice is but a single dollar.

There are waists of madras, damask, gingham, lawn, percale and other shirtwaist materials. There is every desirable shade and combination in colors.

They were made by the best makers known. We are very, very particular who makes our shirtwaists.

They are for the most part such styles as we have only few of—generally little lots of six or eight and which we will discontinue selling. Excellent values and high grades in every way.

Former prices were $1.75 and up to $2.50.

Elbow-Sleeve Waists, $5.50.

Whimsical Fashion says she is decidedly in favor of this pretty style. In fact, she says women, to be smartly dressed, must adopt the elbow effect.

That is exactly why they are the recognized vogue wherever Fashion's devotees are found.

We have a strikingly original effect in white lawn, daintily trimmed with lace and embroidery, for the price noted—$5.50.

Pretty Millinery.

As pretty as any woman could desire to wear, and so very reasonable in price. Midsummer conceits of the most taking kind.

There's a suggestion for the Decoration Day Hat—more than one—in the following:

New Shirtwaist Hats, smart Dress Hats, fine Shade Hats—$3.50, $5, $7.50 and up to $10.

Untrimmed Hats, 50c and $1. Half original prices.

Artificial Flowers—every flower that grows imitated—10c, 25c, 50c—half price.

Flower Wreaths, 50c, 75c, $1.

Children's Hats—linen, duck, crash, serge, broad-brim sailors and all sort of boyish and girlish hats—35c and up to $5.50.

Embroidered Swisses—Imported.

A sale today of twenty styles of this season's importation. The collection comprises qualities that sell for 75c, 85c, $1 and $1.25 a yard.

Handsomely embroidered dots and scroll effects in self-color and contrasting colors.

Such ground shades as rose pink, maize, heliotrope, nile green, blue. And also solid black.

To close out quickly, we say

50 Cents a Yard.

Ladies' Fine Umbrellas.

A small lot—blue and red only—26-inch Umbrellas that we have been selling for $5. We'll close them out for $4 each.

All best taffetas, self-colored borders, princess handles of finest box or furze woods.

Less Than Wholesale Prices for Summer Bedding.

That smacks very strongly of sensational advertising with which we of Pittsburg are quite familiar. But it is a plain statement of the exact conditions on which this bedding is to be sold. No wholesale house in the country could sell the same quality of goods for the retail price with which we have marked them.

MRS. EAGLE WILL RELY ON STORY OF LITTLE SON

Boy Will Probably Be Asked to Tell the Tale of Edna Varner's Death.

HE WAS WITH HIS MOTHER

Avalon Women, in Whose Home the Petrolia Girl Met Her Fate, Arrested by Order of District Attorney, Who Is Making Investigation.

Upon the testimony of her 5-year-old son, Stewart Eagle, Mrs. Letitia Eagle will, in all probability, be acquitted or convicted of the murder of her 13-year-old ward, Edna Varner. Mrs. Eagle was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of murder, and later released on $5,000 bail.

While it has not yet been decided by attorneys for the defense whether they will place the child on the stand, it is probable that he will be given an opportunity to tell his story in court and thus assist in clearing up the mystery.

Persons in Avalon who are acquainted with the Eagle family believe that the child can clear up the mystery if he is given a chance. He was at the Eagle home when Edna Varner died.

The child was not called to testify before the coroner's jury and has not been at the Eagle home since the tragedy. On May 7 he was taken to the home of S. S. Eagle's parents in the East End, where he has remained since.

Called in the Neighbors.

On the morning of the shooting little Stewart was up early. He went to the McClintock home, next door to the Eagle residence, and was there about half an hour. During this time he played with the children until members of the household sat down to breakfast, when the lad slipped quietly out of the kitchen door. He is supposed to have gone directly to his mother.

Nothing more was seen of the boy by any member of the McClintock family until he ran through the kitchen doorway about half an hour afterward and, rushing up to Miss Mame McClintock at the table, said, "Mamma wants you to come over to our house quick! Gertrude is lying on the floor at the head of the stairs and is very sick."

This announcement startled members of the McClintock family. They arose from the table and had not proceeded farther than the kitchen when Mrs. Eagle rushed in and said, "I want you to come over in a hurry. Gertrude has fallen in a faint on the stairway."

Dead Girl Discovered.

The Misses Mame and Margaret McClintock ran to the Eagle home and quickly ascending the stairs found the little Varner girl, who was known in the neighborhood as Gertrude, on the floor.

She was lying on her face and her hair was massed over the top of her head, the back of her neck being plainly visible. Miss Mame McClintock turned her over and remarked to Mrs. Eagle that she was on fire. Mrs. Eagle screamed and asked what to do and was told to summon other neighbors and send for a physician, which she did.

Mrs. Naughton, a neighbor, was the next person to arrive on the scene. With Miss McClintock she examined the girl and the bullet wound in her left breast was discovered. When the two neighbors told Mrs. Eagle that the child had been shot she screamed and said, "Oh! that it had been my own."

Little Stewart Eagle watched every movement that was made and stood near his mother while the neighboring women were making the examination. The child seemed very much attached to the Varner girl, and was much affected.

Saw All the Excitement.

He remained with the women during the whole excitement and was not sent down stairs until after his father arrived, about an hour after the shooting.

The little boy was not again allowed to see the face of the dead girl, and the next day he was sent away from the Eagle home and has not been back since.

Mrs. Eagle has spent many unhappy hours at her home since the tragedy. She refused to remain in the house alone during her husband's absence at his work and has enjoyed the company of her sister, Mrs. Charles G. Link, almost every day since the death of the Varner girl.

District Attorney Haymaker and County Detective Robinson have been at work on the case ever since a verdict was rendered by the coroner's jury. In the past week they spent the greater part of their time in the Avalon district, and believe they have collected sufficient evidence to show that little Edna Varner was murdered.

Expected Her Arrest.

Mrs. Eagle kept in touch with the movements of the district attorney and expected her arrest for several days. She arose quite early yesterday morning and left the house soon after her husband.

Mrs. Eagle informed her neighbors the first of this week that she had secured the services of Attorney J. Scott Ferguson, as she did not know what the outcome of the affair might be. When she left the house yesterday morning she left word with a neighbor that she would be away for the greater part of the day. She stated that she was going to Pittsburgh to see about some dressmaking and that she would also visit the office of her attorney and talk over matters with him.

Mrs. Eagle was placed under arrest in the office of her attorney, J. Scott Ferguson, about 11 o'clock yesterday morning by County Detective Robinson. No other persons were present at the time, but S. S. Eagle, husband of the accused woman, who had been sent for, and Attorney Ferguson.

Mrs. Eagle was very cool and collected while the warrant was read to her, and showed her thorough self-composure by listening attentively to every word.

Shortly after the warrant had been read a conference was held by Mrs. Eagle, her husband and Attorney Ferguson. Then the county detective and Attorney Ferguson held a short conference and it was decided to go to the office of Alderman Groetzinger, where the information had been made.

Here a commitment to jail was made out and Attorney Ferguson and his client went into court shortly after noon to ask for bail. Judge Frazer, heard the application, and as no objections were offered by District Attorney Haymaker, Mrs. Eagle was admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000, which was promptly furnished.

Mrs. Eagle, in company with her husband, then went to the home of relatives in Pittsburgh.

Soon after the arrest deputy sheriffs served summones on several persons in Avalon. Miss Mame McClintock was the first served. The deputies tried later to reach Mrs. Naughton, but she was not at home and a further effort will be made to locate her today.

District Attorney Haymaker is determined to go to the bottom of the case and is busy looking up evidence.

Will Exhume the Body.

He said yesterday afternoon that he would send Dr. Walter C. McCandless, coroner's physician, who held the post-mortem examination of the Varner girl, and Deputy Coroner John P. Black to Petrolia, where the remains are buried, on Friday, to exhume the body and make a further examination.

The death of Edna Varner is one of the most mysterious and peculiar in the history of Allegheny county. About February 1 S. S. Eagle secured Edna, or Gertrude, Varner from the Children's Home Society of Western Pennsylvania, where she was said to have been sent on account of ill treatment by her parents at Petrolia.

The Eagle family removed from their former home in Bellevue to No. 807 Forest avenue, Avalon, April 1. On Tuesday morning, May 6, S. S. Eagle reported to the coroner that the Varner child had been shot and the suspicions pointed strongly to suicide. Her body was sent to the morgue and the rumors of mystery in the case were so strong that a post-mortem examination was held by Dr. McCandless, who found that the child had died from a bullet wound and that previous to her death a criminal operation had been performed on her.

Says She Was in the Yard.

Mrs. Eagle testified before the coroner's jury that on the morning of the tragedy she was in the front yard planting flowers. She said her 5-year-old son, Stewart Eagle, was with her, and the Varner child had been sent upstairs to dress in order that she might go to the market.

Mrs. Eagle says she went upstairs in a short time and found the girl lying on the floor at the head of the stairs, as she supposed, in a fainting condition. She did not touch her, but immediately called in neighbors.

When Dr. Cunningham of Avalon arrived and found the girl dead he asked for the weapon with which she was supposed to have killed herself, and Eagle, who had been telephoned for and arrived at the house, produced the revolver from his room.

The revolver had been left on a shelf in front of a wardrobe in Eagle's room and Dr. McCandless testified that it would have been impossible for the child to have shot herself and replaced the revolver where it was found, 20 feet away from the place where the girl lay.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of murder, but held no one responsible.

FIGHT AGAINST DOCTORED MEAT

The Dairy and Food Department Claims Boracic Acid Is Injurious.

SUITS ARE TO BE TRIED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
HARRISBURG, May 21.—Dairy and Food Commissioner Cope today sent to Attorney General Elkin a letter acknowledging the receipt of the opinion furnished by the attorney general last Friday as to the adulteration of meats sold in Pennsylvania by western packers. The question came to Mr. Cope in the form of a letter from the Philadelphia Live Stock association, asking whether the packers had any right to use deleterious substances in preserving their products. This query was provoked by the action of Commissioner Cope in allowing the beef trust until August 1 for the withdrawal of illegally preserved meats from the market, which it had been argued, amounts to the suspension of the pure food law during that period.

Mr. Cope says the department has been doing all in its power to enforce the provisions of the pure food law. Whether boracic acid, used in preserving meats, is injurious, is a question for a jury to decide, but Mr. Cope thinks it is injurious. The department has testimony from reliable experts that boracic acid is injurious, and intends to act upon its judgment. Cases in which the question is involved will be tried next month and experts have been employed to make experiments for the purpose of establishing that boracic acid is injurious to health.

The people who use the preservative will be prepared to say that it is not injurious, and the department wishes to meet them. If the Philadelphia Live Stock association has any testimony to show that boracic acid is injurious, Mr. Cope says he will be glad to have it. The desire of the department, he says, is to enforce the law to the utmost, and it will gladly co-operate with the Live Stock association and pay any reasonable expenses to witnesses who have made experiments and are competent to testify.

DAVIS ISLAND DAM—The stage of water at 9 o'clock last night was 4.8 feet and stationary.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. R. R. Abrams of Monongahela was in Pittsburgh yesterday on business.

The Bessie Smith, in place of the Ben Hur, will be the regular packet leaving today for Parkersburg.

The towboat Two Brothers is at the Monongahela wharf undergoing repairs. The boat will be inspected Saturday.

Rivermen were very much disappointed yesterday over the fact that the looked-for rise of a foot did not materialize.

William Boll, a former river engineer, leaves in a few days for Idaho, in search of better health. He is a brother of Capt. Peter Boll.

There was a 7-foot stage of water in the Pittsburgh harbor last Saturday night. That rise out of the Monongahela was the cause of it.

The snagboat to be built for service on the Monongahela river will not be 38 feet wide, as published yesterday, but 32 feet wide and 138 feet long.

The Courier is having a new guard rail put on and will be repainted throughout. Flight Clerk Jim Indiana will take her place in the Pomeroy trade.

Allegheny rivermen say that the run of timber out of the Allegheny for the present season is about over. Much timber was brought down this year.

Thornton Peters, ex-schoolteacher of Columbus, O., who severed connection in an attempt at suicide on the steamer Courier above Ripley, O., died at the City hospital at Cincinnati.

An old land mark has been torn down on the Monongahela wharf. The city hay scales have been razed and Wharfmaster Jenkins Jones is glad that the eyesore is gone.

The Queen City again made Sewickley her base of operations yesterday. The Florence Belle, Leighty Freight and Passenger and the boat left for Cincinnati with an excellent trip.

A new channel, 1,500 feet long and 300 feet wide, is to be dredged in the Ohio at Sewickley, preparatory to building a cofferdam for dam No. 3. The cofferdam will take the place of the dyke removed at Whites' riffle and will make better water at that place.

Edmond S. Grant, of the United Pilots' Corporation, is going up the Monongahela river today to visit some of the pilots and endeavor to interest them in the company he represents. The pilots held a meeting yesterday. It is said that all of those belonging to the new corporation will draw $25 a month, commencing August 1, of this year, whether they are employed or not.

Every riverman on the Monongahela river is now looking for the white mouthed moccasin snake, which is supposed to have escaped from the towboat Juniata the other day after having chased the crew of the steamer to the pilot house. It is stated on good authority that none of the crew of the Juniata had tasted benzine or any other kind of fluid likely to make persons see "things."

TORRENCE IS TO BE RETAINED AS CITY TREASURER

The Threats of Councilmanic Friends Compel Recorder to Declare Himself.

STONE'S FACE TO THE WALL

Citizens Have Pre-Empted Use of Separate Column on the November Election Ballots by Filing Necessary Papers at Harrisburg.

David R. Torrence will be retained as city treasurer by Recorder J. O. Brown. He was so notified yesterday. Recorder Brown's decision in favor of Torrence is said to have been influenced largely by his councilmanic friends. They gave the recorder notice that if he did not appoint Torrence to succeed himself war in the select council combine would follow and that several members would quit the machine ranks. This plain speaking compelled the recorder to declare himself.

The new charter makes the treasurer's office appointive under the city recorder, and fixes the salary at $5,000 a year unless otherwise fixed by councils. Councils has not yet passed a salary ordinance. The treasurer has heretofore been paid at the rate of $5,000 a year. Formerly the salary was $4,000.

Stone Put Away in a Dark Closet.

Gov. W. A. Stone is not popular with members of the Quay Central Republican league, better known as the Quay club, whose quarters on Third avenue are temporarily occupied by the Stalwart Republican association. Gov. Stone was one of the organizers of the Quay club and was for a time chairman of the club's finance committee. For a long time large portraits of Gov. Stone, Justice W. P. Potter and Senators Quay and Penrose hung upon the walls of the club house.

Gov. Stone's portrait hung by the side of Senator Quay's, and was the first seen upon entering the reception room. Since the governor made himself so unpopular there has been a general demand on the part of the members of the club, and the Stalwart association, that the picture be removed. So intense was the dislike to the original that someone spat upon the governor's portrait.

It was then taken down and removed to a back room, where it now hangs in a closet, with the face to the wall. The Quay club is still in existence, and will reoccupy its quarters on Third avenue after the present campaign.

Elkin in Pittsburgh Yesterday.

Attorney General John P. Elkin, Gov. Stone's candidate for governor, was in Pittsburgh yesterday for a short time, en route to Harrisburg. He professed to be much pleased with the local situation. When asked about his candidacy he replied: "I think the prospect is very good. I do not know how the other side feels, but I am perfectly satisfied."

The Citizens party leaders promise the old organization leaders a surprise before the primaries are held on June 7. The managers of the Citizens movement state that they will be ready at that time to make a showing of their strength and hope to have a marked effect on the [illegible] primaries. The organization leaders are having much difficulty in [illegible]sons to run as delegates for the various county conventions.

They are also having trouble in finding a candidate for congress in the downtown district. At present James Francis Burke is the only avowed candidate in the field. Attorney John McClaire having decided not to make the race, following the example set by Judge W. D. Porter. Mr. Burke is confident that if he can secure the Republican nomination the Citizens party will indorse him. Several leaders in the Citizens party declare that they are not in favor of indorsing Burke because he remained in the background during the last municipal fight and refused to aid them. It is the opinion of a majority of the Citizens that Maj. A. P. Burchfield will be the independent Republican nominee of the Citizens party in the downtown district.

Movements of the Citizens.

Tomorrow night a mass meeting will be held by the Citizens in Kenyon's hall, Federal street, Allegheny. George W. Guthrie, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and one of the leaders in the Citizens movement in the last city election, will make an address. Charles S. Crawford, chairman of the Citizens committee of 25, is also expected to speak.

Yesterday the Citizens party preempted the right to the exclusive use of a separate column on the official ballot to be used next November, when Chairman Wilford filed papers in the office of the prothonotary of Dauphin county at Harrisburg claiming the right to nominate candidates for every state office to be voted for in Allegheny county next November.

There are 17 papers in all and each is signed by at least five persons, the number required by the law to give the party the exclusive right to this appellation and to block any possible attempt of the Stone-Flinn ring to steal the title by taking out nomination papers. The list of signers to the papers follows:

MUST BE GIVEN EIGHT-HOUR DAY

OTHERWISE PUMPERS WILL BE WITHDRAWN FROM MINES.

Anthracite Operators Are Given Until June 2 to Fix Scale With Men Now at Work—Michigan Votes for a General Convention.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., May 21.—The three anthracite executive committees of the United Mine Workers of America at their joint meeting today decided to permit the engineers, firemen and pumpmen to remain at work, providing the coal companies grant them an eight-hour day at present wages. If these demands are not granted by June 2 the men shall suspend work. Although the instructions issued to the local unions do not specifically say that, they are so construed by the committeemen.

This action was taken after two sessions had been held which consumed the entire day. The official instructions, addressed to the officers and members of all local unions in the anthracite coal regions, follow:

Now Up to Operators.

After carefully considering the question in all its bearings, it is decided to recommend that all the engineers, firemen and pumpmen remain at work, if the various companies pay to them the scale of wages and comply with the conditions of employment formulated by the Shamokin convention; That is to say, the number of engineers, firemen and pumpmen required to keep the mines from flooding will continue working in their respective positions, providing the companies require them to work not more than eight hours each day, without any reduction in their present compensation.

All other workmen, excepting those whose labor is essential to carrying out this policy, are requested to remain away from the collieries, strippings, washeries and breakers until they are officially notified that the present suspension is ended, or until instructions to the contrary have been issued by the executive board and national officers.

Presidents of local unions and mine committees are hereby instructed to wait upon mine superintendents and notify them that on and after Monday, June 2, all engineers, firemen ad pumpmen are expected to work but eight hours each day, and are to receive present wages.

Days Are Now Long.

At present the engineers, firemen and pumpmen work 10 hours a day. Some of the firemen work 12. While no official information can be secured, it is believed that the action of the committee to let the men remain at work if given the shorter work day at present wages was done so as not to harass the individual operator too much, some of whom are willing to grant the miners' demands, but cannot unless the big coal companies do the same.

The three boards will again meet tomorrow morning. It is said that nothing was done in regard to the matter of involving the bituminous miners in the present struggle, but the subject may come up tomorrow.

SCRANTON, PA., May 21.—There was no marching demonstration by the Oliphant mine strikers today, the petition of the clergy and merchants having persuaded the Delaware & Hudson company to abandon the idea of attempting to start the washery.

BAY CITY, MICH., May 21.—The Michigan District United Mine Workers of America has joined with three striking anthracite districts of Pennsylvania in a request to National President Mitchell for a national convention to discuss a general strike. Only one vote is now needed.

WILL REORGANIZE.

Independent Glass Co. Will Issue Stock to Its Component Concerns.

President C. F. Cole of the Independent Glass Company, who was here from his home in Lancaster, O., yesterday, announced that at the annual meeting of the company in August a plan will be submitted for a complete reorganization of the company to eliminate all trust features. The new company will cease to pay certain profits to the manufacturers, but will buy the entire output and pay the profits in dividends on the stock securities held by each interest.

The Independent company president declared that the factories will operate through June regardless of the fight of the Burns organization to close tomorrow.

Roosevelt Praises His Old Comrade-in-Arms, Gen. Wood—Society of Colonial Dames Unveils Monument to Dead of Spanish War.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 21.—President Roosevelt today unveiled the memorial shaft erected at Arlington by the National Society of Colonial Dames in memory of the veterans who fell in the recent struggle between Spain and the United States and in the blowing up of the Maine.

The ceremonies were in charge of Maj. Gen. John R. Brooke, commander of the department of the east, the military establishment being represented by a battalion of engineers, a battalion of marines, light battery of the Fourth artillery, two squadrons of the Second cavalry and over 500 veterans of the Spanish-American war.

Lieut.-Gen. John M. Schofield, U. S. A., retired, read the address of the president of the national society, Mrs. Justine V. R. Townsend, at the conclusion of which the shaft was unveiled amid the cheers of the thousands who had surrounded the stand.

President Roosevelt, who delivered the address, said:

It is eminently appropriate that the monument should be unveiled today, the day succeeding that on which the free republic of Cuba took its place among the nations of the world as a sequel to what was done by those men who fell and by their comrades in 1898. We went to war for a specific purpose. We made for Cuba a specific pledge, and we redeemed that pledge to the letter. And I think, my comrades of the war, that we have peculiar reasons to be proud of one of our fellows who served with us in that war, and under whom, during the last years, Cuba has been; under whose administration Cuba has taken those strides forward which have fitted it to stand alone—I speak of Gen. Leonard Wood. (Cheers and applause.) And great though the services were that Gen. Wood rendered during the war, they have been surpassed by the inestimable service he has rendered in peace to Cuba, and, therefore, to our nation, for our interest was bound up in the success and welfare of Cuba. (Applause).

And a word here, where we meet to honor the memory of those who drew the great prize of death in battle, a word in reference to the survivors. I think that one lesson every one who was capable of learning anything, learned from his experience in that war, was the old, old lesson that we need to apply in peace quite as much—the lesson that the man who does not care to do any act until the time for heroic action comes does not do the heroic act when the time does come. (Laughter.) You all remember, comrades, it is barely possible some of you remember being the man who, when you enlisted, had a theory that there was nothing but splendor and fighting and bloodshed in the war, and then had the experience at once of learning that the first thing you had to do was to perform commonplace duties and perform them well.

You cannot expect that much will be done in the supreme hour of peril by soldiers who have not fitted themselves to meet the need when need comes, and you cannot expect the highest type of citizenship to be shown in the periods when it is needed if that citizenship has not been trained by the faithful performance of ordinary duty.

SENATORS' IRE AROUSED.

Nearly Came to Blows in Committee Hearing—Krag-Jorgensen Bullets Have Effect Like Dum-Dums.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—There seemed to be danger of a personal encounter between Senators Dietrich and Patterson today, so heated was the hearing before the Philippine committee of the senate. It was during a further examination of Sergt. O'Brien, the Massachusetts man who charged that "dum-dum" bullets were used by the army in the Philippines.

Senator Dietrich shook his finger at Senator Patterson, and said he had encouraged everything to besmirch the American army.

"This is absolutely untrue," cried Mr. Patterson, at the same time advancing toward Mr. Dietrich.

"I say it is true," retorted Mr. Dietrich, reiterating his statement.

The chairman called for order and the excitement died down.

At the opening of the hearing O'Brien showed three cartridges which he declared contained dum-dum bullets, which had been served to him in the Philippines.

Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, was called, and declared the bullets to be of the regular Krag-Jorgensen make. No explosive bullets had been issued since the St. Petersburg convention of 1868. The regular Krag-Jorgensen bullet, he said, has practically the same effect as a dum-dum, or explosive bullet.

PARKS WILL BE MORE ATTRACTIVE FOR THE PEOPLE

Improvement Ordinances to Go Into Councils Next Monday Night.

NEW SWINGS AND SETTEES

Shelter Houses and Other Public Conveniences Are to Be Provided, Needed Retaining Walls Built, Etc.—The Zoo to Be Enlarged.

Ordinances will be presented in councils next Monday night providing improvements to Pittsburgh parks that will cost $55,600. Other improvements are contemplated that will cost $50,000 more. Architects to draw plans for these latter improvements were appointed yesterday by Director J. Guy McCandless. The joint council committee on parks will make a tour of Highland and Schenley parks this afternoon and have these proposed improvements explained to them.

Harry S. Estep was appointed architect for the shelter houses and places of public comfort that will be placed in Highland park, and Rutan & Russell for similar improvements in Schenley park.

A retaining wall is to be built along the boulevard in Schenley park, near the Greenfield bridge, at a cost of $7,000. Director E. M. Bigelow built part of the retaining wall there and Director George W. Wilson built another part, but since these were put in a part of the roadway has washed away. The repairing and regrading of the driveway at this place and the construction of drains for the hillside will cost $14,000.

Good Asphalt Promenade.

A retaining wall and other improvements near the conservatory and the hall of botany are to cost $15,000. The retaining wall will be between Panther Hollow bridge and the hall of botany. There is also to be built a retaining wall in the rear of the conservatory buildings to prevent a washout, and an asphalt roadway from the Panther Hollow bridge around the conservatory. This roadway will practically be a broad promenade of asphalt from the bridge. Iron railings are to be placed along all these retaining walls at a cost of about $3,000.

A macadam roadway is to be constructed, to connect the Riverview drive in Schenley park with the athletic oval, and the estimate on this is $6,000.

These improvements are to be paid out of the bond issue fund for improvements in Schenley and Highland parks and the money is in the city treasury. In addition are three other ordinances for improvements which are to be paid out of appropriations made for this year and for last year.

Swings and Settees.

These ordinances are for the purchasing of bulbs and plants for the Easter show next year, and for plants that are to be placed in the parks, the city not being able to propagate the bulbs wanted, and which are to cost $3,500; for the placing of swings for the pleasure of the children and which are to cost $2,500; for settees to the amount of $3,000; for improving the lower Bedford avenue reservoir, to be used as a recreation ground under the state law, which allows cities to appropriate money for the purpose, and which is to cost $1,500.

Architects Estep and Rutan & Russell are to draw plans for improvements not yet incorporated in ordinances, and which will cost $50,000. The money for these improvements is to come out of the regular appropriations. The improvements for Schenley park in this list are a stable, workshops, storerooms, wagon sheds, shelter houses and a refreshment room and houses of public comfort.

Bear Pits for the Zoo.

In Highland park additions are to be built to the zoo, in which many objections filed by the Humane society will be met. Bear pits are to be excavated in the hill opposite the west end of the zoo buildings. In addition there are shelter houses, houses of public comfort, stables, wagon sheds, workrooms and some new propagating houses for the bulbs and plants used in Highland park to be erected.

Grandview park is to get a pavilion with refreshment stands, houses of public comfort and a tool house. The West End park is to get toilet rooms, tool rooms, a refreshment stand and a shelter house, all in one building.

Friendship park is to get a tool room and yard, and Herron Hill park is to get a tool room and houses of public comfort.

Free Excursions Will Carry Thousands to Fortune.

People who do not live in Steubenville, O., in the great Ohio river district, where the colossal new plans of the LaBelle Steel Company and Pope Tin Plate Company are being built, can have no idea of the wonderful industrial wealth that is spreading out there beyond all anticipated bounds. Investors are being given an opportunity to buy real estate at figures that will double and treble before the summer is past.

One of the finest plans of lots ever laid out is that owned in the Third and Fourth wards of Steubenville by the LaBelle View Land Company. This plan consists of hundreds of acres. The introductory sale of this property will be inaugurated Saturday, May 24, and will be conducted by the Duquesne Realty Company of the St. Nicholas building, Fourth avenue and Grant street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

This firm of real estate agents has opened branch offices for this sale in Wheeling, W. Va.; Dennistor, O.; Scio, O.; Toronto, O.; Martins Ferry, O.; East Liverpool, O.; Uhrichsville, O.; Wellsburg, W. Va.; Wellsville, O., and have a finely-equipped home office in Steubenville at North Fourth street. It has made preparations to spend thousands of dollars running free excursions over the Pennsylvania lines from Pittsburgh, Wheeling and all intermediate points.

From information received the building boom at LaBelle View has started with tremendous activity. Houses are going up all over the plan. This condition has been forced by the cry for homes from hundreds of the families of the 10,000 workmen that are being called to employment by the colossal new industries.

It is estimated that Steubenville's population is growing at the rate of 42 per cent. There are 15,000 living in the town at present, and houses cannot be rented for love or money. A prominent builder said that he would not be surprised to see half a million of dollars expended in building residences on the LaBelle View plan before October 1.

It is said that the excursion trains to be run under the direction of the Duquesne Realty Company will carry the greatest crowds to Steubenville that the community ever witnessed.

The LaBelle View Plan of lots is located five squares above the Panhandle depot, on a beautiful tableland commanding a view for miles up and down the Ohio river.

Arrangements have been made to pave a portion of the boulevard and the business street at once. Other extensive street improvements will follow. There will be city water, natural gas and electric light. Traction cars will extend up Franklin avenue in less than a year and loop the property to Market street, and then down to the business center. This will make it possible for people living in LaBelle View to reach any of the great mills and workshops within a few minutes. Connections will be effected with lines running to Wheeling and up the river to Toronto. In fact, it is proposed to extend the service up the river as far as Wellsville and East Liverpool, a distance of 25 miles.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Pennypacker's Candidacy.

The formal presentation of Judge Pennypacker for the Republican nomination for governor was made last night by Republican citizens of Philadelphia unconnected with the party machinery of the city or state. The proceeding was in the nature of an invitation to the party managers and to the rank and file of the party to accept Judge Pennypacker as Philadelphia's offering to the state convention and to the commonwealth for the governorship. There were public men in profusion at the meeting, but they were not of the type known as working politicians, with the exception, perhaps, of George W. McCurdy, president of common council. Ex-Mayor Warwick, who was present and participating in the proceedings, was formerly in active politics, but is now in private life. Charlemagne Tower, ambassador to Russia, who presided, struck the keynote of the Pennypacker movement when he described the judge as "a Pennsylvanian who represents the whole Republican party and a Republican who is acceptable to the whole people throughout the commonwealth." It is as such that he will be presented to the politicians and to the people. His Republicanism and his high character and attainments give him a strong claim on both.

Park Improvements.

The park improvements proposed by Director McCandless, especially the much-needed aids to recreation and the places for shelter, rest and refreshment, will meet with general approval. If there is room for criticism it will be that the provisions made are not on a sufficiently generous scale. The Pittsburgh parks have been singularly deficient in the things it is now proposed to supply, and the director of public works is deserving of commendation for taking the matter up and making a start. But it is only a start. There is a large population that makes use of the public parks, and the disposition to make use of them grows. Similarly the demand for places of recreation and refreshment will grow with the use of the means provided.

Messages From Dying Men.

It is hard to imagine anything more pathetic than the incident in that ill-fated mine in Tennessee, when dying men spent their last moments in writing farewell messages to the loved ones at home. Although they were being slowly suffocated by the poisonous gases generated by the explosion, they thought not of themselves, but of those from whom they were so soon to be separated, and devoted their dying energies to giving advice and comfort to their families. It was a triumph of love over despair, and that amid terrible surroundings. Hemmed in by masses of debris, gasping for breath and without hope of aid, the last thoughts of these heroes of the mine were of home and of reunion in heaven. There have been many instances of conspicuous courage at the scenes of underground disasters, but rarely, if ever, has there been such sublime heroism as was displayed by these men who met death in the Tennessee mine.

Attitude of the Monarchs.

The crowned heads of Europe have not felicitated the president of Cuba on his induction into office. They have extended no glad hand of welcome to the new member of the family of nations. The kings and emperors and other believers in the divine right of hereditary rulers cannot be expected to rejoice over the establishment of another republic. On general principles they must view with some concern the spread of self-government, and they cannot rejoice when a fellow monarch loses possessions. However, they know what is going on. The British government was busy with its preparations for King Edward's coronation, but it had not overlooked the establishment of the Cuban republic. The British minister was on hand with his credentials, and became the dean of the future diplomatic corps by virtue of handing in his documents as soon as Mr. Palma became president.

But if the monarchies of Europe had no congratulations ready, the republic of France was prompt, through her president, to congratulate the debutante and the sponsor. President Loubet's well-wishes were the more welcome, too, because he is at this time on a visit to the most autocratic ruler of Europe. While an ally of an emperor, France is true to republican principles and is sincerely glad to perceive an extension of the republican faith.

Stone's Efforts for Elkin.

Attorney General Elkin, Stone's candidate for governor, is a frequent visitor to Pittsburgh, but Gov. Stone, whose political future depends on Mr. Elkin's success, comes no nearer to the western part of the state than the Harrisburg end of the long-distance telephone, by means of which he is endeavoring to promote his candidate's chances. Evidently the governor has learned political wisdom to the extent of recognizing that his protege's prospects will be best helped by concealment of his efforts to promote them. However, Stone's studied abstinence from public participation in Elkin's campaign is attracting attention to him, and his lack of courage, shown in his failure to visit his home county, for the government of whose second-class cities he is responsible, furnishes the people with the reasons for his plan of campaign. If the governor's conscience approved his own course in public affairs his work for Elkin would doubtless be in the open, and he would be doing much of it in Allegheny county. But as in seeking a vindication in the person of his attorney general he does not dare stir up discussion of his own acts for fear of the ill-effect on his candidate, he keeps his efforts as quiet as possible. Therefore, the telephone is being worked overtime in all directions. The governor is working much harder for Elkin than he would work did he dare to appear openly in the matter.

French Influence in Russia.

It tickles French pride to be in alliance with so splendid a military power as Russia, but the Russian government does not find the visits of the president of a republic to the Russian capital an unmixed pleasure in troublous times such as these be in the czar's dominions, when students in the university towns are disposed toward a strenuous effort for greater liberty for the people, and the hungry peasants in the vast agricultural regions are moved to loot the granaries of the nobles and portion out their estates. St. Petersburg does not give the whole story, but it comes from Paris that while President Loubet attended "a grand military review at St. Petersburg," which was "a splendid affair," and while "the French sailors were having a gay time and drinking at public expense," there was another side to the picture, "great precautions," we are told, having been taken while the review, "attended by the czar and a crowd of notable persons," was in progress, "to restrain the discontented public from making a demonstration by singing La Marseillaise."

It is evident from this sidelight on Franco-Russian relations that the Franco-Russian alliance if much in evidence before the Russian people may have important consequences in modifying the relations of the czar and his people with each other, or may even stimulate the revolutionary movement in Russia to the point where, unless something yields, there will be a disastrous explosion. The peasants in the empire of the Romanoffs may not know of the French revolution and results that flowed from it, but the students and the class they spring from are more or less learned in history, and the advertisements given the republican alliance by visits of the president of the republic will undoubtedly stimulate inquiry as to the then and now of a people who choose their own rulers. This will not work for the maintenance of autocratic government.

Why Warnings Go Unheeded.

For awhile every volcanic mutter in the West Indies will be regarded as the precursor of an eruption. People will flee from the vicinity to places of safety. But in the course of years they will grow callous again. Wonder has been expressed in many quarters why the inhabitants of St. Pierre did not heed the warnings they had and get out of harm's way. It has been stated they were restrained from flight by the exercise of police authority. Possibly some were, but it may safely be assumed the majority had heard the cry of "wolf" so often when there was no wolf that they simply ignored the threatening of the mountain until the fiery whirlwind of death put an end to their cogitations.

This case is not by any means unique. When Johnstown was overwhelmed by flood thirteen years ago the same wonder was expressed why the people had not taken alarm and fled. Some of them had, mostly newcomers who had not heard the warnings year after year that the fatal flood was coming. Hundreds of the victims of that awful calamity had fled to the hills on previous occasions when the report was spread that the South Fork dam was breaking. They had their trouble for their pains—and then came the deluge.

Doubtless the people of Pompeii and Herculaneum had their warnings, had grown weary of them and at the fatal moment ignored them. It is written that Babylon and Sodom and Gomorrah were specifically warned to mend their ways or they would be destroyed, yet it is of record that they refused to mend. Why, then, should it be expected that other men and women should abandon their homes and belongings when a crater that has done nothing worse than grumble, or smoke up during the span of their lives, becomes a trifle more demonstrative? Ever present danger causes people to become careless. Only the wise are ever alert, expecting the unexpected to happen. Wisdom is an admired quality because, like diamonds or pearls, it is not common.

Memorial Day Preparations.

Memorial day is close at hand, and the surviving defenders of the flag in the sixties are completing arrangements for their annual tribute to the comrades who have passed away. Although the weight of age now lies heavily upon nearly all of these survivors of our greatest war, they join in the march to the cemeteries and there participate in the impressive ceremonies that mark the observance of the day. The ranks are rapidly thinning, and the bodies of those who remain have become feeble, but the old soldiers respond to the call of duty as readily as they did through the dark years of civil strife.

The custom of annually decorating the graves of the dead soldiers has been wonderfully potent in creating a sentiment that manifests itself in floral tributes to the dead generally. There has, of course, always been a tender regard for the resting places of the departed, but not until Memorial day had been observed for several years was there anything like a general movement to beautify the graves of the civic dead. Then the example set by the veterans began to be followed, and the custom has grown year by year until the day of remembrance is now observed by the people in all walks of life. It is a beautiful custom, and for the instillation and strengthening of this sentiment credit is due to the organizations of the veterans who have been so faithful in their observance of Memorial day.

In the death in England of Edwin Lawrence Godkin American journalism loses a strong and forceful writer and a man who, whatever may have been thought of his vagaries, was a vigorous defender of what he believed to be right. Mr. Godkin's name is inseparably connected with the fortunes of the New York Evening Post, of which he was so long the directing spirit. In recent years he had advocated policies that have not been popular with a majority of the American people, but no one could question his ability or doubt his editorial sincerity.

As the Aunties Would Have It.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The regiment had been ordered to the front and the colonel was making hasty preparations to meet the enemy.

"What does all this mean?" demanded the astonished general commanding, stopping a moment as he passed by to inspect the arrangements. "You have no ammunition, no arms and nothing that I can see in your wagons but baskets of flowers and boxes marked 'rose water!'"

"I am trying, general," replied the colonel, saluting his superior officer stiffly, "to see if I can't carry on war without hurting anybody."

SANKEY'S SINGING A FEATURE OF THE ASSEMBLY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, May 21.

When Ira D. Sankey, gray and rugged, stood up to sing in the general assembly this morning, the interest in him was evident on all sides. Mr. Sankey joined the Presbyterian church not long ago and was logically the leader of the musical portion of the devotional exercises today. That he has retained the melodiousness and much of the vigor that made his voice noteworthy in the old days in which he supported Dwight L. Moody in evangelistic work was evident the moment he began to sing today. There is nothing sensational in his methods. He might have been singing in a small Sunday school, or at home in his parlor, for all the consciousness he displayed in the presence of a great audience. As has always been the case when he sang, Mr. Sankey is absorbed in his music and seems to feel the sentiments he expresses in the words of his Gospel songs, regardless of where he may be. Ever since the opening of the general assembly last week there have been striking features daily. On two or three days it was the eloquence of a Pittsburgh pulpit orator, or an earnest debate on some question of theology; but this morning it was music. Although the regular proceedings of the assembly went along smoothly and quietly, at the close of the devotional exercises more than one casual reference was made to Mr. Moody's singing, and it was apparent that the clear tones of the greatest evangelical minstrel this generation has ever known were echoing through the minds of the grave commissioners, even in their most serious and emphatic moments. It is probable that Mr. Sankey will sing at the devotional exercises every day to the end of the assembly's sessions. It is an element for good that the representative men gathered in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church appreciate almost unanimously.

The Oceanic Looms Up in the Harbor.

The big White Star liner Oceanic steamed up the bay this morning. She had a smooth voyage across from Liverpool, and when she poked her nose into her slip in the North river, her great smokestacks towering above those of all the other steamers in port, she looked as spick-and-span as if she had not come any farther than from Sandy Hook. Among the Pittsburghers returning home on her was H. C. Torrance.

The Cuban Flag at Sea.

Steam whistles at full blast this morning welcomed the first vessel sailing under the Cuban flag to enter the port of New York. The ship was the Ward liner Seneca. When she left New York some weeks ago the Seneca flew the Stars and Stripes from her maintruck. She comes now from Havana and Santiago, and when she weighed anchor at those places she still had the Stars and Stripes waving aloft; but her skipper had the date of the birth of the Cuban republic firmly in his memory, and yesterday, while still at sea, he hoisted the single star and stripes of Cuba at his fore and came into New York harbor with them today. The revenue cutter Hudson met the Seneca down the bay and gave her three long whistles, to which the Seneca responded in the same way. Then other craft took up the concert and whistles were blowing along a stretch of three or four miles, while Cubans on the Seneca cheered and waved their hats frantically.

Hard Coal Price Stationary.

Coal was not any higher today than yesterday, that is, $6.25 a ton. It is threatened that it will rise another dollar by next Monday if the strike trouble in Pennsylvania continues. Bituminous coal went up 50 cents a ton this morning, making it $3.85. A week ago soft coal was selling at $2.45 to $2.55 a ton "on board."

Justice for the Spitter.

Another of those spasmodic crusades against spitters in public places has broken out. Four men were arrested for offending in a ferry house and were duly fined. The ordinance against this form of misdemeanor is clear and violators get no mercy if detectives of the sanitary squad happen to see them. There is a movement now to make it a punishable offense for anyone to spit on a sidewalk, and it is quite likely such an ordinance will be passed. People in New York will have to behave themselves in public places if laws can be made strong enough to make them do so.

Final Blow to Spate Park Chairs.

The ghost of the "Spate chairs" walked in the supreme court today. Justice Steckler, sitting in special term, part 4, decided that no one has a right to charge people for sitting in a chair in the public parks, and that Clausen, when park commissioner, had no right to grant to Oscar F. Spate the privilege of renting chairs in the parks. It will be remembered that there were riots in Madison square for several days in succession last summer over these chairs and that the police had all they could do to protect the chairs. At last a temporary injunction was issued restraining the park commissioners from allowing the chairs to be maintained, and the trouble ended, for the time being. The court today made that injunction permanent. It was argued by Spate's lawyer that it was no worse to rent chairs than to offer donkeys and goat carriages for hire or to conduct restaurants in the parks; but the court dismissed this as sophistry.

Good Words for the Deceased Editor.

Regret over the passing of an able man is the sentiment expressed generally here in connection with the death of Edwin L. Godkin, formerly editor of the Evening Post of this city. The erudition, bravery and progressiveness of the deceased editor were above question, and these qualities in him are those most often mentioned this evening. Personally he was not over-popular, on account of his reserved and usually truculent attitude toward the world; but that he was a brilliant editor and close student of social and political economics was too evident to be denied by anybody.

Van Wyck Appointees Triumph.

This was the day of triumph for the Brooklyn magistrates appointed by Mayor Van Wyck. When the new municipal administration came in fusion candidates who had been elected magistrates under legislative enactment took possession of the courts after a fight with the Van Wyck appointees. There was much disgraceful squabbling, both sets of magistrates trying to hold court at the same time. Then the Van Wyck men took their cases into court and the court of appeals reinstated them. They took possession today. The first thing they did was to dismiss their respective chief clerks, whose salary was $5,000 a year, and then one of the magistrates kicked out three policemen who had favored the claims of his opponent. Having adjusted these little matters their honors declared court opened and dealt with their "drunks," "vags" and "disorderlies" with dignity and dispatch.

Mrs. Fiske as Nora.

Mrs. Fiske had a large audience to witness her play Nora in Ibsen's drama, "A Doll's House," at the Manhattan theater this afternoon. She will not repeat the performance as a regular part of her night bill, but may do it again before the end of the season once, by special request. It was in response to a general demand that she consented to appear in it today.

Only Pure Spot on the Speedway.

Half-mile races between trotting and pacing horses are to be regular events on Saturday on the Speedway in this city. Brushes are to be seen there any day, but the Road Drivers' association of New York, which uses the Speedway more than any other class, are determined now to have real races on Saturday. Beginning Saturday afternoon of this week, four events will be decided each week, two for trotters and two for pacers. The various horses are to be classified, not according to their registered marks, but on the showing they make over the Speedway course. Members of the association assert that there will be no betting or purses. The races will be for sport, pure and simple, and to develop the best that is in the horses which go to the Speedway for a "breather." The Speedway is one of the most popular places of resort in this city, attracting thousands of visitors on Saturday afternoons and Sunday mornings. Nearly 50,000 persons witnessed the road drivers' annual parade there a fortnight ago.

Two Famous Actresses Sail.

Maude Adams has left us. She sailed for Europe today on the Vaderland, with flowers all about her and a large crowd of admirers gathered at the pier to see the last for a while of the charming little actress. She took all the bustle good-humoredly. Perhaps she liked it; you never can tell. Mrs. Patrick Campbell, with "Pinkey-Pinkey-Poo," also went away this morning. She was on the Teutonic, with a bundle of American money stacked up in her cabin. It is probable that there will be an exciting ocean race between the Teutonic and the American liner St. Louis, which also sailed today, although it is positively denied by the representatives of either steamship line, and the officers of the ships, as usual, are absolutely ignorant of any such intention.

Keene Sails, a Very Sick Man.

James R. Keene sailed for Europe on the Teutonic today. His did not appear until just before the liner cast off from the pier. Then he hurried aboard, leaning heavily on his valet's arm, and went below immediately. It required only one look at the intrepid financier to assure one that he is a very sick man. He has been confined to his apartments in the Waldorf-Astoria for some weeks, but has managed to get down to his office occasionally since the warm weather set in. He is going abroad principally for the benefit of his health, it is understood. He looks broken down by overwork.

A Veteran Ocean Traveler.

Among the passengers on the Teutonic is Gen. G. B. Williams. He is making his 500th trip across the Atlantic. He is a pretty close rival to that wonderful ocean-traveler, Ted Marks, although he does not wear the Marks boutonniere.

Wireless Telegraphy on Warships.

Wireless telegraphy was officially tested at the Brooklyn navy yard today with a view to determine the practicability of establishing the system on the United States war vessels. The dispatching plant was placed on the crosstree of the flagpole located near the Sands street entrance to the yard. This placed the plant above the roofs of the buildings and established a direct line with the receiving plant on the Columbia at Cob dock. The distance was about a third of a mile.

Gen. Porter Goes to Washington.

Gen. Horace Porter, United States ambassador to France, went to Washington this afternoon to attend the unveiling of the Rochambeau statue. Gen. Porter will dine at the White House tomorrow and will take breakfast on board the French battleship Gaulois at Annapolis Friday. He will dine at the French embassy Friday evening. On returning to New York on Monday, May 26, the evening of the same day, a dinner will be given in his honor by the Republican club of New York. The Union League club will give him a dinner on Monday, June 2.

Big Warships Escape the Eruption.

The battleship Massachusetts arrived at the Brooklyn navy yard from Tompkinsville this morning for her spring overhauling. The Massachusetts and Alabama were at St. Pierre a month before the eruption of Mont Pelee. They were two of the last United States vessels at the port. The first they heard of the eruption was when they arrived at one of the southern ports. The Massachusetts has been on a six-months' cruise in southern waters and has participated in the maneuvers of the fleet in all kinds of practice. Considerable time was spent in gun work and in landing and coasting.

Grimy Newsy in a Coaching Party.

The four-in-hand coach Pioneer started for its 50-mile run from the Holland house today with Mr. Gerry handling the ribbons. Tracy Dows was the host of the day and T. Suffern Tailer was among the notables aboard. There was the usual large crowd to see the coach depart, and the guard, busy with his horn, did not see that the equipage was suffering the indignity of a grimy newsboy hanging on behind until it was too everlastingly late.

DENOUNCES HATLESS WOMEN.

Bishop Scarborough of New Jersey Does Not Want Them in Church.

From the Chicago Record Herald.

Bishop Scarborough of New Jersey has been out hunting for trouble. At a diocesan convention at Trenton the other day the bishop made a speech in which he denounced women who go bareheaded at seaside resorts or elsewhere, and hurled forth the dictum that the feminine members of his flock must wear hats or bonnets when they go to church.

There are many men in this country who will suspect, after this, that Bishop Scarborough is inclined to meddle with affairs that do not properly come within his jurisdiction. Let him go on devoting his entire attention to the spiritual needs of the women. If they want to get along without wearing costly hats—hats, concerning the prices of which they sometimes, it is to be feared, deceive their trusting husbands—why should the prelate interfere? Without women's hats there would be much less sin in the world than at present. Many a woman has sold her soul for a hat and many a man has cheated his neighbors to pay for it.

Bishop Scharborough may some day have a monument subscribed for by the milliners; but if he can't find anything worse in New Jersey than bare heads he must be living in the next place to heaven.

Faith in the Goosebone Man.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Pottsville Chronicle ought not to ridicule that Reading goosebone man. He foretold the many changes of last winter with an accuracy which those scientific fellows never got right of, and we for one will be disposed to look for light frosts in June, if he says they are coming. That is, if the goosebone says so, we mean.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

Opening of the Duquesne Garden Season—Attractions in Other Houses Remaining Open.

The season of summer opera at Duquesne garden will be inaugurated Monday, May 26, with the great success, "1492," which consists of merry lines, bright comedians, pretty girls and magnificent costumes. Manager Conant has brought together one of the strongest lyric organizations to be seen in any stock company in the country. The list is headed by Richard Harlow, who originated the role of Isabella, Queen of Spain. Others in the cast will be Edith Mason, Thomas Persse, Charles H. Drew, Mary Carrington, Lelia Gardner, William Dixon and a chorus of 50 trained voices and an augmented orchestra. A special feature on this occasion will be the appearance of the members of the battalion of the Pittsburgh Academy, who will introduce field movements as prescribed in the United States drill regulations.

Charles Coghlan's delightful play, "The Royal Box," will be given by the stock company at the Grand opera house next week with special attention to the scenic effects and costumes. Stage Director Huffman has the original manuscript and scene models exactly the same as Mr. Coghlan employed. The introduction of the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet" is one of the most novel effects introduced on the stage. The cast will embrace every member of the stock company.

The pretty pastoral comedy, "Sis Hopkins," which deals with the life of Posey county, Indiana, will be the attraction at the Bijou next week, with Rose Melville in the title role, supported by one of the most perfectly organized companies ever sent out. The chief charm of the play lies in the clever character acting of Miss Melville in her portrayal of the odd girl, Sis Hopkins.

Al Reeves' Big Burlesque company, an attraction that far surpasses anything that has been seen this season, or any previous offering, will be the attraction at the Academy next week. The company includes many well-known burlesquers, and, as in years gone by, has never made a failure, but always a success, and this season a greater success than ever.

The Murray-Lane opera company will be seen in the "Chimes of Normandy" the last three nights of this week at the Empire theater.

Miss Grace George will be seen for the first time at the Saturday matinee at the Alvin as Gilberte in the fine old emotional comedy, "Frou Frou," supported by a strong cast.

"Lady Godiva."

One of the most important theatrical events of the present season will be the first production on any stage at the Grand opera house Monday, June 2, when Miss Sarah Truax will make her debut as a star in J. I. C. Clarke's new play, "Lady Godiva." Manager Davis and his entire executive staff have been busily occupied for months past preparing the details attendant upon this play. Stage Director Huffman has exerted himself in designing the costumes, scenery and general scenic environment. Everything has been built especially for the new play. The seat sale for "Lady Godiva" will open at the box office of the Grand this morning at 9 o'clock.

Miss Mannering in "Lady of Lyons."

Much interest is being felt in the single production in Pittsburgh at the Alvin theater of "The Lady of Lyons," in which Miss Mary Mannering will be seen as Pauline and Kyrle Bellew as Claude Melnotte. The company surrounding the stars is an unusually strong one, and the entire production magnificent.

USE OF OIL FOR FUEL.

Big Contract Made by Gas Company at Philadelphia Illustration of Its Value.

From the Philadelphia Record.

The heavy contract entered into for the delivery of Texas oil to be used in the production of gas in this city will serve to call public attention to the feasibility of using oil as a cheap and desirable substitute for coal for manufacturing and domestic purposes. The doubt about the permancy of supply has been largely dissipated by the undiminishing flow of the wells in Texas and the apparent extent of the producing territory. The cost of transporting the oil will not greatly add to the price. It is carried by pipe lines from the wells to the gulf, and by tank steamers to the points of delivery at tidewater ports.

There would appear to be no reason why the oil should not become a legitimate competitor in this market with hard and soft coal. Its use for enriching the illuminant quality of gas and largely cheapening the cost of production ought to enable the gas company to sell gas for fuel at a reduced price, and thus do away with the terror of coal strikes and at the same time contribute decidedly to the public comfort and convenience.

PERSONALS

The Pennsylvania limited west last evening carried two distinguished passengers. They were I. Shuntaro and S. Yamada, silk merchants of Yokohama, Japan, who have been making a trip around the world, and who are now going to Chicago and San Francisco and thence to Japan. They spoke fairly good English and said they were traveling on both business and pleasure. The silk trade of Japan, they said, had been greatly extended in the past few years and was making inroads upon the Chinese trade, which had received a set-back on account of the Chinese war. They spoke of the fact that the only available pier in the harbor of Yokohama was owned by the French government, but that the Japanese government was now about to overcome this great drawback and was taking measures to develop the harbor so that the shipping interests would no longer be hampered by such restrictions as the French ownership inflicted.

Considerable excitement was occasioned at the Union station last evening from 8:36 to 8:46 o'clock by the sudden failure of the electric lights. The station was plunged into darkness and many excited passengers who were waiting for their trains rushed for the exits, seizing the wrong grips and causing considerable confusion. The station is supplied with electric light from the Philadelphia Company, the plant for the station not yet being in operation, and something went wrong with the connections. There being no gas fixtures candles were procured for the restaurant, and a gloomy light, sufficient to permit people to find their way about without running into each other, was established about the time the electric lights were again turned on. Passengers then returned to the waiting room and the mix-up in grips and satchels was soon rectified.

Walter Rosenbaum of the firm of Rosenbaum & Co. has secured a rare treasure in a genuine Lupot violin, valued at $1,000 and said to be the finest instrument of its kind ever owned in this part of the country. Its tone is exquisitely sweet and experts declare there is no doubt of its genuineness. The former owner of the instrument brought it from Europe, and a few days ago recently it was sold for a few hundred dollars by the heirs, who did not realize its value. It then came into the possession of a local music house. Mr. Rosenbaum happened to hear it and recognized its unusual beauty and value.

S. F. Hart, editor of the National Drug Clerks' Journal of Chicago, is in the city the guest of H. S. Kossler, president, and A. F. Judd, secretary, of the Western Pennsylvania Drug Clerks' association. Mr. Hart is here for the purpose of organizing a national association of drug clerks. Twelve associations in nine states are ready to form the national association whenever a convention shall be called. Mr. Hart will have talks with the members of the local association before he goes to New York tomorrow.

Frank Ritzel of Wood street, Braddock, a skilled electrician in the Westinghouse electric plant at East Pittsburgh for 10 years, left early this morning for New York city, to sail tomorrow for Manchester, England. He will take charge of one of the departments in the new British Westinghouse plant. Mr. Ritzel was given a farewell banquet last evening at the Sixth Street hotel, Braddock, by about 25 fellow workers from Braddock, this city and Wilkinsburg. He was presented with a handsome diamond ring as a token of their esteem.

F. J. Kimball, president of the Norfolk & Western railroad, accompanied by M. J. Caples, superintendent of the Pocahontas Coal & Coke Company, both of Philadelphia, arrived in the city last evening from the east over the Pennsylvania railroad in the private car of President Kimball and departed after making connections for Columbus. They are on a tour of the Norfolk & Western and the property of the coal company in West Virginia and Virginia.

H. Moldridge and Miss F. Moldridge of Stourbridge, Eng., are registered at the Monongahela.

Plans for Memorial Day.

Decoration day will be celebrated at Chartiers cemetery, Carnegie, by Espy post No. 153 of Carnegie, and Garfield post No. 213 of the West End. Col. W. J. Glenn will be chief marshal. The Carnegie post will leave Main street, Carnegie, at 10 a. m., and join Garfield post at the cemetery. The Rev. J. A. Snodgrass, pastor of the Baptist church, Carnegie, will preach the memorial sermon.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Thomas Cunningham.

Mrs. Ann Evans Cunningham, mother of Thomas S. Cunningham, vice president and treasurer of the Pennsylvania Window Glass Company at Kane, Pa., and of Frederick W. Cunningham, manager of the glass plant at Kane, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel W. Zeber, wife of a Pittsburgh business man, in Forest avenue, Bellevue. Mrs. Cunningham was a resident of Jeannette, Pa., and became ill while visiting at the home of her daughter in Bellevue. Mrs. Cunningham was born in London, England, 68 years ago. When 7 years old she was brought to the United States, her family settling in Pittsburgh. In October, 1856, she was married to Thomas Cunningham and the family resided in the First and Fourth wards until 12 years ago, when they moved to Jeanette. While residing in Pittsburgh, Mrs. Cunningham was an active member of the Liberty Street Methodist Episcopal church, being one of its oldest members. She took an active interest in church and charitable work in this city and Jeanette, and, after moving to the latter place, became a member of the Jeanette Methodist Episcopal church. During the Spanish-American war she was a member of the Red Cross society and at the time of her death was a member of the board of management of the Westmoreland hospital at Greensburg. Besides her two sons, she is also survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Zeber of Bellevue and Mrs. C. W. Thompson of Avalon.

Mrs. Margaret Ferris.

Ferris, who organized and was the first pastor of the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic congregation in the East End, died suddenly early yesterday morning of heart disease at her home, No. 16 Mercer street. Mrs. Ferris had lived in the house where she died for over a half century and was the last surviving member of her family. She was born in Ireland 84 years ago, and while still a child emigrated to the United States with her parents, who settled in Pittsburgh. She was the widow of John Ferris to whom she was married 54 years ago, and was a sister of the late John and Patrick Kirk of the Twelfth ward. Mrs. Ferris had been a member of St. Brigid's Roman Catholic church since it was organized and during her life had always taken an active interest in the work of the societies connected with the church and in church affairs. Mrs. Ferris was the aunt of Thomas F. Kirk, former director of St. Paul's cathedral choir and a well-known musician of this city. She was also a grand aunt of Thomas F. Kirk, Jr., manager of the Alvin theater.

Thomas B. Young.

Thomas B. Young died at his home, No. 17 Isabella street, Allegheny, Tuesday night, aged 55 years. Mr. Young was in the employ of the Commercial Gazette for about 25 years, being manager of circulation for a number of years before he left the paper. He left when the ownership of the paper changed two or three years ago. After severing his connection with the Commercial Gazette he engaged in real estate business for a time, afterward taking a position in the circulation department of the Leader. Mr. Young was born in the part of Allegheny known as Manchester, and lived on the North Side all his life. He was twice married, and is survived by his second wife, whom he married about 15 years ago. He was an attendant of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, and while not a member of that denomination, always attended a Methodist Episcopal church. He was first interested in real estate and later became connected with transatlantic navigation, in which he made a fortune. The career of the deceased since 1865, when he started the Nation, has been interesting and brilliant. Until 1881 the Nation remained an individual publication, but in the latter year it was made the weekly issue of the Evening Post, and Mr. Godkin was made one of the editors and proprietors of the joint publication. # JOSEPH WALTER NEW HEAD OF THE HUMANE SOCIETY

Annual Meeting Yesterday Was Interesting and Largely Attended.

MORE FUNDS ARE NEEDED

Handicap Put on State Appropriation Calls Forth Caustic Comment. What the Society Did Last Year. A Probation Officer Requested.

The twenty-eighth annual meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society was held yesterday afternoon at the free dispensary building in Sixth avenue and was largely attended. The election resulted in the unanimous choice of Joseph G. Walter for president, Maj. A. F. Burchfield, vice president, and the re-election of the former vice presidents and the former board of managers with the addition of Miss Effie Wilson and Mrs. Frank F. Nicola. Miss Frances Henry and William R. Thompson were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The society was organized in 1874, at a meeting called by Mayor James Blackmore and attended by 12 people. The chairman of that meeting was Dr. A. G. Walter, father of the new president, and the original name adopted for the association was the "Allegheny County Humane society." The first president was Charles A. Colton, and he was followed by Prof. Leonard H. Eaton, who was succeeded by the Hon. George Wilson, who died a few months since.

New President Is an Old Member.

Joseph G. Walter, the new president, has been a member of the society since the second year of its organization and has always taken an active interest. He is connected with the Keighley Steel Metal Ceiling and Manufacturing Company, and resides at No. 9723 South Negley avenue.

Mr. Walters addressed the meeting, and briefly reviewed the work of the past year. He said the society now has a total of four city agents and 68 agents in the surrounding territory, and called attention to the vigorous way they prosecuted the work, also to the new feature of appointing night agents during the cold winter months, whose duty it was to look after express and carriage horses. He spoke of the gas chambers provided for the dog pounds of the two cities by which dogs and cats were humanely put out of the way. He also said that during the time the city did not have a man at the dog pound, through the kindness of a friend of the society, who paid the salary, a man had been employed from January 1 to May 1 to destroy dogs, etc.

State Appropriation Ride.

He spoke of the society's refusal of the state appropriation of $1,000 because the bill making the appropriation provided that the animal feature of the society be dropped, which left the society with a deficit of about $200.

The animal ambulance had cost more money to maintain than had been contributed and a deficit existed from that source of about $1,000.

The treasurer's report showed $9,049 58 received from all sources. The expenditures amounted to $8,886 44, leaving a cash balance of $163 14. It was necessary, he reported, to borrow $700, of which $500 still remained unpaid. The deficit from the ambulance work did not figure in the treasurer's report.

The secretary reported 2,629 complaints received, 122 being of cruelty to aged people, 935 to children which practically involved 2,065 children, while 1,572 were of cruelty to animals involving 9,727 beasts. The complaints of cruelty toward old people and children were investigated and settled in various ways.

In the animal cases 239 informations were made and 209 convictions obtained.

The ambulance has responded to 252 calls since February 27, 1901, and 221 horses and two cows have been removed by it. The cost of the service was $2,232 57, and the receipts from all sources $1,192, or of $1,040 57 in excess of the receipts.

Rabbi Levy's Address.

Rabbi J. Leonard Levy addressed the meeting. He complimented the society upon the work accomplished, which he said was the most practical form of religion. He suggested that the society introduce the thought of their work into the public schools, and inaugurate there a sympathy for dumb brutes by offering prizes for essays on the subject and thus excite an interest among the children, as is done in England. He also advocated the opening up of a department for the work of the society in the religious papers.

Addresses were also made by Maj. Burchfield and Capt. W. P. Herbert, in which caustic references were made to the action of the legislature in attaching conditions which they could not accept. They also said that they felt sure that the business men of the city would make up the loss, and urged publicity through the press of the need of funds.

Mrs. George H. Wilson, chairman of the educational department of Civic clubs, addressed the society in regard to adopting the Philadelphia plan of probation officers for children under the age of 14 who are guilty of crimes and who under the law cannot be sent to prison. She said she had seen the judges about the matter and that they would appoint the officer if funds could be provided. Mrs. Wilson said that she had already some money promised and wanted a subscription from the society. The matter will be considered later.

The vice presidents elected are:

William G. Johnston, John S. Ritenour, William R. Thompson, Mrs. S. S. Carrier, J. Walter Hay, Mrs. Samuel McKee, Mrs. H. Lee Mason, Mrs. E. H. Stowe, Mrs. John Dunlap, Mrs. William Wallace, Capt. William P. Herbert, A. F. Burchfield.

Trustees—H. Lee Mason and Joseph G. Walter.

Board of Managers—Mrs. Peter Young, Mrs. E. M. Buss, Mrs. Dr. Harvey Henderson, Miss Mary E. Davison, Mrs. H. F. Lynch, Mrs. A. M. A. Balph, Mrs. J. A. Lippincott, Miss Jane Gilman Wallace, Mr. H. Lee Mason, Jr., Mr. S. L. Fleishman, Mr. James L. Marshall, Mr. William D. Thompson, Mr. R. C. Miller, Mr. James Grier, Mr. Edward E. Duff, Miss Effie Wilson, Mrs. Frank F. Nicola.

MONEY FOR THE CITY.

Receipts for Liquor Licenses Are Turned into Treasure's Office Earlier Than Usual.

County Treasurer Thomas G. McClure yesterday afternoon complied with the order of Controller John B. Larkin and paid into the city treasury the receipts from liquor licenses aggregating $447,000.

It has been the custom of the county treasurer for years to deposit this money in May in some favored banks and to let the banks have the use of it until September and then turn it over to the city. The new charter says that payment to the city must be made at once.

Wabash Controls Ann Arbor.

NEW YORK, May 21.—It was generally accepted as a fact in financial circles today that interests friendly to the Wabash Railroad Company had acquired a controlling interest in the Ann Arbor road. President Ramsey of the Wabash said that the purchase was not made directly for his road.

WATER COMPANY IS REORGANIZED

THE DIRECTORATE IS NOW CONTROLLED BY THE MELLONS.

Large Improvements Will Be Made in the Near Future to the System That Supplies the Boroughs Between Wilkinsburg and Wilmerding.

The Pennsylvania Water Company, which is a consolidation of eight companies supplying water to the boroughs between Wilkinsburg and Wilmerding, was reorganized last night, and is now controlled by the Mellons. Over $1,000,000 will at once be expended for improvements.

The directorate of the company has been James H. Harlow, president; A. W. Mellon, A. W. Duff, George Harlow and James A. Wilson. The Mellons have purchased the entire Harlow interest and the new directors are R. B. Mellon, W. L. Mellon, A. W. Mellon, A. W. Duff and James H. Wilson.

W. A. Alexander has been superintendent. He is succeeded by W. C. Hawley, who until last week was superintendent of the waterworks at Atlantic City. George S. Davison, formerly manager of the Mellon traction interests, will be secretary of the new company and also consulting engineer. R. B. Mellon is president.

The absorbtion of the old company was ratified for the first time last night, and the agreements became a matter of record on the books of the company.

The company contemplates vast improvements. There has been considerable trouble in the past about the quality and at times about the quantity of the supply. About $1,000,000 will be expended to remedy this. New pumps will be ordered at once and they will be installed as soon as the builders can furnish them. A new reservoir will be built, and filters constructed. These will be known as mechanical filters. It is sand filtration, but instead of being in open flat beds, exposed to the air so that they cannot be cleaned daily, the sand will be in large steel tanks so arranged that they can be cleaned daily or more often if required, and will furnish a clear, pure water at all times.

Some of the pipe lines of the company are in poor condition, notably that through Sterrett township. New pipe will be ordered at once and substituted for the old. Every improvement that is made will be with a view of permanency, according to the new directors, and the making of a plant that will be satisfactory to the subscribers.

CYRANO DE BERGERAC CUT FROM REPERTOIRE

Chicago Judge Officially Declares the Play to Be Copied from Prince of Cornville.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, May 21.—Judge C. C. Kohlsaat in the United States district court today issued a perpetual injunction against the production in the United States of Edmond Rostand's play, "Cyrano de Bergerac," in the suit brought against Richard Mansfield and A. M. Palmer by Samuel Eberly Gross of Chicago. The court in its order ruled that Mr. Gross was also entitled to an accounting of the profits from the play, but Mr. Gross waived this right and accepted $1 as satisfaction.

Mr. Gross is the author of a drama entitled "The Merchant Prince of Cornville," the leading character of which was distinguished by the big nose that made Cyrano famous.

This drama, Mr. Gross maintained, was printed for private circulation some time before the appearance of the celebrated French play, and, according to expert testimony, was the basis of Rostand's work.

TOMBSTONES HERE.

Nineteen Pieces of Marble for Graves of Civil War Veterans.

Nineteen tombstones, shipped to Allegheny by the government to be used in marking the graves of soldiers of the civil war, have been taken from the custody of the railroad company and are being placed. Capt. James A. Stewart, whose efforts were mainly responsible in getting the stones and to whom they were consigned, was dying when they arrived, and for a time there was some doubt about just what would be done with them. The circumstances were explained, however, and the railroad company allowed Campbell Stanton of the Abe Peterson post, G. A. R., Allegheny, who was chairman of the committee, to pay the freight due and take them away.

The blocks of marble are to be put at the graves of soldiers buried in Highwood and Unlondale cemeteries. The stones are now being set in place and will be ready by Decoration day, as was originally intended.

Want Library for Themselves.

A public meeting of the citizens of Idlewood has been called for tonight to devise means of acquiring the public library of that place. Idlewood will become part of Crafton in June and the library, which was founded when the place was part of Chartiers township, will revert entirely to the township. Idlewood citizens wish to purchase the library.

LACK COW SENSE.

People Get Willful.

A cow or horse or even a dog will refuse to eat or drink what the animal knows to be harmful, but mankind will persist in pouring in coffee even after having been fully assured that it is steadily killing him. Once in a while they wake up and do the sensible thing.

A lady says, "Why will people wait as long as I did when it is so easy to save oneself the suffering caused by coffee drinking? After using coffee several years I discovered that I was breaking down nervously. I consulted several doctors, but in spite of everything, steadily grew worse.

"One physician advised me to quit coffee and I tried quitting by the use of will power, but every time it was a miserable failure.

"My stomach was in dreadful shape and I was unable to sleep at night, nervous prostration set in and I became barely able to drag about.

"One day while visiting a minister's wife, a motherly old lady, she proposed to give me a cup of coffee, the kind she had been using three times a day for three years. So she brought out a cup of the most fragrant, delicious beverage. It was coffee and it was not coffee. I tried it and was eager to know how it was made.

"She said, 'Five years ago I was affected much as you are, but I quit drinking coffee and began using Postum Food Coffee, and that produced the result you see and restored me to health.'

"She said a lot more and when I went home I got a box of Postum and began using it. Such a soothing effect took place and I began sleeping nights and felt a relief from my awful nervous tension. Gradually and surely I got well and now I feel as strong and healthy as a woman should at my age, with all my old-time energy restored.

"I earnestly entreat all coffee drinkers to change to Postum. What is the use of suffering day and night because of some paltry coffee when one has but to leave it off and use Postum to be well, and I think anyone will agree with me that health is worth everything else; money, property or fame." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Steubenville will be the great center on the new Wabash system between Pittsburgh and Toledo. This competing ore line has brought to Steubenville new iron, steel and tin industries that will cost when completed more than $10,000,000 and are now calling thousands of workmen to employment.

Now is the time to strike if you want a seat in the train that leaves Pittsburgh for Fortune's Field.

Have you heard of this money-making, home-getting, pleasure-giving trip? FREE! ABSOLUTELY FREE! Tickets may be had for the asking.

Now is the appointed time. To see is to buy! This grand Free Excursion Train leaves the Union Depot in Pittsburgh at ten o'clock (city time) on the Pan Handle Railroad. Coaches will be provided for but a limited number of passengers; 456 tickets have already been given out, and as the limit is 1,000 it behooves you to get yours at once if you desire to be on the grounds in time for the Ten Big Wonder Opportunities! These wonder opportunities will permit investors to snap up property at fifty per cent to one hundred per cent less than prices which will rule after date of excursion.

If you live at a distance, write for the tickets at once. If you live off the line of excursion, write to our Pittsburgh, Steubenville, or Wheeling offices. If you live within fifty miles of Pittsburgh, you will save time by writing to our Pittsburgh office.

We have decided to keep our Pittsburgh office open tonight and Friday night until 8:30 o'clock for the convenience of those who cannot call during the day.

If you do not live in the Great Ohio Valley District where the colossal new plants constituting the La Belle Steel Works and Pope Tinplate Works, and a wonderful wealth of diversified industry is spreading out beyond all anticipated bounds, now's the time to investigate—now before your greatest opportunity to make money flies and what might be your earnings go into other pockets.

Free Excursion Trains will be run from Pittsburgh, Wheeling, East Liverpool and all intermediate points. Tickets will be sent to all people sending for them living on the railroads that will make connections with excursion trains. Get your request in before ticket limit is reached. Sit down and write now. Don't get left.

But now as to the purpose of this great Introductory Sale—It was organized to disseminate the advantages of the property to the greatest number of investors in the shortest possible time, with a view to getting building operations started at once and thus meet the mighty cry for homes now going up from the throats of hundreds and hundreds of the 10,000 additional iron workers, tinplate workers, glass workers, clay workers and coal miners about to invade this field for employment.

As an introductory method lots will be sold in many instances at 20 to 100 per cent below the prices which will rule at the second sale. No argument that mortal man could put forward will speak as forcefully to the investor as this fact, when considered with the actual progress that he will see here with his own eyes.

The Immense New Industries Will Call 10,000 More Workmen to Employment.

Among the names of the great organizations which are erecting new works and adding buildings and improvements are the La Belle Steel Co., Pope Tinplate Co., Ohio Valley Clay Co., National Steel Co., American Steel Hoop Co., Ohio Foundry Co., Steubenville Pottery Co., Steubenville Wall Paper Co., Riverside Blast Furnace Co., Acme Glass Works Co., Hartje Bros. Paper Manufacturers, Jefferson Glass Co., Means Foundry and Machine Co., Robinson & Irwin Machine Co., National Marble Co., and many planing mills.

The National Steel Company will employ about 2,000 men in the billet and rod mills, the Pope Tinplate Works will start with 800 men, and increase to double this number in the next fourteen months; the La Belle Steel Works employ 2,100 men at present at their new open hearth furnaces and at the new tube mills. When completed this industry alone will give employment to 6,000 men.

It is estimated that the army of workmen in Steubenville and vicinity will be increased to 15,000 and that in less than ten years there will be a compact commercial metropolis of more than 50,000 souls, built up solidly with no vacant land intervening.

Lots of the Grand Introductory Sale Will Go At

$50, $75, $100, $125, $150, $175 and $200 on Terms of $5 and $10 Down and $1.00 Per Week.

Some on the boulevard and business street will be sold at prices a little higher, but in no instance at figures as high as the advance which must be made thirty days after date of introductory sale.

Ten per cent discount will be allowed for cash when full amount is paid within sixty days from date of purchase, and in the event of sickness or loss of employment no interest will be charged on deferred payments. Should the death of the purchaser occur, his or her heirs will receive free deed or title to lot without requirement of any further payment, if purchaser has paid one-fourth of purchase price.

It might be well to remember that the lots on the boulevard and many of the streets run from 50x110 to 55x125 and 50x150.

Here is another interesting point: On day of FREE EXCURSION, ten of the finest lots in the plan will be put up separately at auction to be knocked down to the highest bidder, with the understanding that purchasers will agree to commence the erection of a creditable house on each lot before October 1. None of the lots will be offered at this auction contest for a longer period than five minutes, and not more than one lot will be sold to any one person.

Two extra lots will be given also to the purchaser who completes the building of the first house costing $2,000 on any lot that is purchased on day of the introductory sale. Purchasers who build the second, third, fourth and fifth houses will each be given one lot.

La Belle View Will Have Every Modern City Improvement.

LA BELLE VIEW is a part of Steubenville lying in the Third and Fifth wards on a beautiful tableland just above the Panhandle passenger depot. It will inherit every up-to-date convenience that belongs to a progressive municipality whose population is now 15,000 and growing at the rate of 42 per cent.

The Steubenville City Councils have appointed a committee to confer with the owners of La Belle View property for the purpose of accepting a magnificent park fronting a great distance along the Boulevard. This park will be improved with gushing springs of pure water, pleasure resorts, fine grounds, lakes, etc.

Arrangements have been made to pave a portion of the boulevard and the business street. Other extensive city improvements will follow.

There will be city water, natural gas and electric light.

Increase in real estate values due largely to tremendous railroad construction and improved river navigation.

The dam to be built in the Ohio at Brilliant station will give Steubenville a six-foot harbor, and has so encouraged capital to pry into the coal developing possibilities of this locality that thousands of acres of coal land have been bought up and preparations made to erect immense shafts, with railways to carry the outputs of the mines to the river front.

The coal syndicates which have been coming in have discovered that the Steubenville coal is identical in quality with the great gas and coking veins which have made Pittsburgh and Connellsville famous.

$2,000,000 will be expended by these syndicates during the coming summer in this field; and the number of miners employed will be increased from 375 to 600. An authority on coal development says that in less than two years there will be coal shafts enough located between Wheeling and Toronto to employ not less than 2,000 men.

When you stop to realize what an effect this will have in sending up the value of La Belle View property, you will be one of the men who will not wait for the free excursion train to take you to Steubenville.

Umpire Emslie Was Very Generous to the Giants

| Boston | 11 | 14 | .440 | St. Louis | 9 | 16 | .360 |

So seldom have the Pirates met defeat this season that when a reverse does come along it should be met in a good-natured manner, and no doubt would be under ordinary circumstances. But when a game is deliberately stolen from them and handed over to the opposition it is time to register a kick. And one is due over yesterday's defeat, which which was clearly the work of Umpire Emslie, whose gift of a run enabled New York to win by a score of 4 to 3.

The umpire's work was such a flagrant bit of offside play that the 3,100 spectators joined in one unanimous expression of opinion and shouted at the tops of their voices. One could hardly blame them, because it is rather tough to see the home team sandbagged right in the camp of its friends. The play which caused the turn of tide in a rather warm battle was so distinct and clear that, to borrow the expression of a grand stander, a blind man could have seen it. The umpire, however, is the sole judge of play and his decision goes. With it went a game that might have had a different ending.

Where the Trouble Occurred.

The play which caused the trouble occurred in New York's half of the eighth inning, after Pitcher Taylor had been removed from the game for offensive conduct on the field and his place had been taken by the great Mathewson. There was one hand out when Matty came to the bat and he reached first by reason of stopping one of Tannehill's benders with his broad shoulders. The next batter up was Van Haltren, who whaled away at a ball just as the big pitcher started for second. Van Haltren's effort resulted in a short left field fly which Wagner grabbed, and then fired the ball to Bransfield at first base. The ball not only reached first ahead of the runner, but in order to make assurance doubly sure Bransfield touched Mathewson with the ball.

So sure were the Pirates that a neat double play had been completed and the side retired that they started in from the field. While the spectators were cheering Wagner and Bransfield for their pretty play they were astounded to hear the umpire call them back and declare the runner not out at first. Of course there was a stormy protest, which was added to by both players and spectators when the next player, Doyle, sent a long hit to right field, on which Mathewson got home with the winning run.

Looked Like Case of Getting Even.

It looked very much like a case of evening things up on the part of the umpire, who thought he had handicapped the visitors in the previous inning by removing Pitcher Taylor from the game for protesting against decisions on balls and strikes. Taylor, who is deaf and dumb, showed his displeasure over the umpire's rulings by throwing his pitching glove on the ground. His removal from the game brought forth a stormy protest, as well as threats from Capt. Doyle and the other New York players.

The game outside of that one inning was a very enjoyable affair, because it showed those nip and tuck contests that might be called anybody's game until the last man was out. The visitors, by clever stick work, took the lead in the second inning, but the locals evened up the score in their half of the same inning. The Giants forged to the front in the fourth by one run, but the champions evened matters up in the seventh, and that was the state of affairs until the eighth, when the visitors were made a present of the winning run.

It Was a Cleverly Played Game.

The game was a cleverly played one on both sides, their being a lot of sharp fielding work. Taylor was removed from the game after one batter had faced him in the seventh inning and Mathewson, who took his place, showed great form, not a hit being scored off his delivery. The Pirate run obtained in the seventh resulted from a wild throw by Lauder in an effort to complete a fast double play. Tannehill pitched good ball for the home team, but was unfortunate in having the visitors bunch three hits off him in the second inning, which gave them two runs.

The Pirates were the first to score, getting a run in the opening inning when Davis drew a base on balls, stole second, went to third on Bowerman's wild throw and scored on Wagner's fly out. Tommy Leach's pretty home run to deep center gave them a run in the second. In the seventh Davis took first by being hit by a pitched ball and got all the way around on Lauder's wild throw. The visitors got two in the second inning on a trio of singles by Bowerman, Lauder and Smith, one in the fourth on Bowerman's double and two outs at first, and the winning run in the eighth was the umpire's gift. NOTES OF THE GAME.

"General" Jackson, the Giants' left fielder, is a very speedy young man who gave a good account of himself yesterday. He gathered in three flys, all being difficult chances, only obtained after hard runs.

Tommy Leach's home run in the second inning was a beauty and kept the crowd cheering while he circled the bases. The ball went almost on a line to the west end of the left field bleachers. Tommy had to make a slide for the plate, but he got there in good shape.

William A. Brady and Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman have invited the Pittsburgh and New York baseball teams to occupy boxes at the Alvin tonight to see Miss Grace George in "Under Southern Skies."

Claude Ritchey's hand was still too sore to permit him to play yesterday and Jimmy Burke once more filled the position in a very satisfactory manner.

Christy Mathewson was in the game long enough to soak Lefty Davis with one of his inshoots and Christy had the compliment returned when one of Tannehill's binders found lodgment between the shoulders. The crack was a hard one and Christy did not start for first until Jack Doyle had given the sore spot a hard rubbing.

George Yeager, the ex-Pirate, now with the Giants, and Kitty Bransfield came pretty close to a mix-up in the eighth inning, but the play had been made on Mathewson at first base. Yeager, who was on the coaching line, ran into the field to give the umpire his opinion. Bransfield got him by the neck and shoved him back where he belonged.

Manager Fred Clarke was a very warm young man when the game was over. The things he said about Umpire Emslie had a very peppery taste. Manager Fred said that if Robert was too old to see plays correctly he should step out and give a young man a chance.

Umpire Emslie's defense of his decision on Mathewson in the eighth inning was that Bransfield did not have his foot on the bag when he caught the ball, but the umpire must have failed to see Matty bump into Bransfield. There are plenty of eye-witnesses who will swear that it was impossible for the runner to get into the base without touching the man with the ball.

In the fourth inning, when Dummy Taylor first offended in throwing a new ball to the infielders to be rolled in the dirt, there was a protest from the Pittsburgh players, headed, so which Umpire Emslie responded: "I can't do anything. Don't you see I can't talk to him." Taylor had his back to the umpire, and while he knew that he was doing wrong he paid no attention to the gestures of the coachers and others.

Jack O'Connor was as angry as a wet hen in the fifth inning when he went out on the coaching line and Dummy Taylor stood in the box and laughed at him. There was no way in which Jack could get back at the deaf and dumb twirler, as he is not learned in the sign language. Jack stood it as long as he could, then retreated to the Pirates' bench.

W. U. P.'S FIELD MEET.

Athletes Will Contest on Observatory Hill Instead of at Schenley Park.

The annual interdepartment field and track competition of the Western university will be held tomorrow afternoon on the college grounds on Observatory hill instead of at Schenley park, as intended until recently. There is a great deal of interest in the meet and there promises to be close competition, though the medical department seems to have the strongest athletes. Both the law and the collegiate and engineering departments will be hot after the doctors, the lawyers placing great reliance in the promise of Frank Jarvis, the college sprinter of international fame, to run for them.

The medicals have the best all-round athlete in college in McGogney, formerly at Westminster. McGogney is good in nearly every event, while Jackson, a former winner for Washington and Jefferson, is strong in the half and mile runs. King, who showed up well in the interclass meet last Friday, is good in the sprints.

The collegiate-engineering department has the Wup team captain, E. S. Worcester, who created a new college record for the mile last Friday, and Stroud, who lowered the mark for the half mile. This department also has Guy Jackson, who is strong in the hurdles, and Carpenter, in the sprints. McConnell, the best man in the weights, who broke the hammer record last Friday, belongs to the collegiate.

AMONG THE AMATEURS.

The Southern A. C. will cross bats with the strong Gould team at the Stoney grounds, Mt. Washington, on Saturday, May 24. All players of the S. A. C. are requested to report for practice every night this week.

A RAY OF HOPE!

BLOOD WINE BRINGS BACK HEALTH TO MANY WHO WERE CHRONIC INVALIDS.

That Blood Wine fully comes up to the expectation of those who have given it a trial is evidenced by the tone of letters we are receiving by every mail. A gentleman who lives at the south end writes: "If I had to do without some of the necessities of life, I would have Blood Wine in the house." Another sufferer says: "A bottle of Blood Wine is the 'stitch in time,' which saves untold misery." Others write in the same strain and the constantly increasing demand for Blood Wine tells us more plainly than anything else that our remedy is meeting with approval.

Blood Wine is especially recommended as a cure for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles and is invaluable in all diseases having their origin in impure blood.

It is a mild cathartic; a safe, lasting tonic and permanently builds up wasted muscles and nerves.

The letters printed below speak for themselves. They tell clearly what Blood Wine has done for others and what it will do for any who suffer:—

Mrs. Howard Warren, 143 Main St., Concord, N. H., writes:—

"I have used Blood Wine both for myself and my mother, now ninety years of age, and I have found it invaluable in cases of colds and coughs. It is a good tonic for elderly people who are run down and nervous."

Miss Mattie E. Phelan, 12 Jackson St., Lawrence, Mass., says:—

"No one knows how miserable I felt before I took Blood Wine. I would wake up in the morning feeling tired. My bowels were never regular, and I suffered intensely from indigestion and was subject to that over-full feeling after eating. If people would take Blood Wine for indigestion they would save a great deal in doctors' bills."

Margaret Fitzgerald, 20 Armory St., Manchester, N. H., says:—

"I was all run down in health and had nervous prostration. I had heard repeatedly of the good results of Blood Wine and decided to give it a trial. I had taken only one bottle when I began to feel better. I could sleep nights, something I had not done for months. I cannot say enough in praise of this medicine."

Miss Louise Clements, 98 Aiken Ave., Lowell, Mass., writes:—

"Last winter I caught a cold which settled on my lungs, and for weeks I was unable to get out of the house. As spring drew near the cold wore off, but left me with a rasping cough, which caused me the greatest alarm. Nothing seemed to stop it; physicians told me that I had developed consumption and that they could do little for me except to make my life easier. I was very weak, my skin feverish and my appetite absolutely gone. A friend advised me to try Blood Wine and from the very first it helped me. My strength came back slowly but surely. I began to enjoy my food. Life became worth living and today I am absolutely well. I feel it my duty to tell others what Blood Wine has done for me that they may not lose hope. I can recommend Blood Wine as the best medicine to be had today and advise anyone feeling badly to try it at once."

MANY ENTRIES IN FIELD MEET AT WASHINGTON

The Interscholastic Events of Next Saturday Are Well Filled.

KISKI WILL NOT BE THERE

Refuses to Send Entries Because of the Expense of Two Meets. Shadyside and High School Will Be There in Force.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, Pa., May 21.—Manager John S. Ewing of the W. & J. college field and track team, has closed the entries for the annual interscholastic meet at this place next Saturday afternoon. The entry list is the largest in the history of the college and the meet promises to be the best ever held in Washington. Seven schools with 74 entries will send teams, and all the leading schools in the western and the central portion of the state, as well as some from other states will be represented.

The following schools have entered teams: Shadyside academy of Pittsburgh, 14 entries; Indiana Normal of Indiana, 14 entries; Mercersburg academy of Mercersburg, 10 entries; Pittsburgh High school, 9 entries; Allegheny Preparatory school, 6 entries; Linsly institute of Wheeling, 6 entries, and Washington and Jefferson academy, 15 entries. Kiskiminetas failed to send any entries and for the first time in the history of the preparatory school association will not be represented in the annual affair. Kiski claimed that the expense was too great, especially as they would enter a team in the meet to be held in Pittsburgh next week.

The entry list as prepared by Manager Ewing is as follows, the numbers 1 to 14 being for Shadyside academy; 15 to 23, Pittsburgh High school; 24 to 29, Allegheny Preparatory school; 30 to 43, Indiana Normal; 44 to 53, Mercersburg academy; 54 to 59, Linsly institute, and 60 to 74, W. & J. academy:

WILSON READY FOR RACE WITH ENGLISH HALL

Pittsburgh Boy Will Arrive Today and Is in Fine Condition.

HAS BEEN TRAINING HARD

Hall Holds List of English Records and Has Advantage Over Wilson in Experience Behind Pace and the Power of His Motor Machines.

Lester Wilson, Pittsburgh's crack professional cyclist, will arrive in the city this morning from Baltimore, Md., where he has been training behind fast motor machines in preparation for his five-mile race on Saturday with Tommy Hall, the English champion.

Wilson has sent word in advance that he is in the best of condition and full of confidence, but he undoubtedly has a hard problem before him, as Hall holds many English records and has had far more experience behind pace than Wilson. While Lester has not had the opportunity to show what is in him in this direction, on actual demonstration Hall is far above the local man. It is an unknown quantity against a known one, but Wilson has shown such wonderful ability in sprint and unpaced races that his followers here are nothing daunted by Hall's reputation.

From having such a tough proposition to go against Wilson will win all the more honors if he finishes the race in the lead on Saturday night. Not only is Hall the more experienced at following pace, but he has the only two 10-horse power motor machines in the world, and Wilson will have to be satisfied with something less powerful.

Hall, who has been training faithfully on the new track in Allegheny, has been a prominent figure in national sports ever since his performances in the six-day races at Madison Square garden last winter. In physique he is an exact counterpart of Jimmy Michael. He will be 22 years old on July 4. Hall is a hard trainer and goes in for all kinds of athletic exercise, such as boxing, wrestling and running. As a result he is a miniature Hercules in physique, and the endurance which stands him so faithfully in the long paced grinds is easily accounted for.

Big Committee of Arrangements for the Greater Pittsburgh Celebration.

BOROUGHS HAVE A PART

Hard Work Now Begins and There Will Be No Let-Up—Recorder Brown Wants All Politics Eliminated—Reduced Railroad Rates.

The executive committee appointed by Recorder Brown to forward the Greater Pittsburgh celebration of the Fourth of July, which is to be especially signalized by the appearance of President Roosevelt as the principal orator of the day, met in Recorder Brown's office yesterday. Col. A. J. Logan was formally named as chairman and ex-Mayor William J. Diehl was made secretary. It was decided to leave the work of apportioning the details of the monster affair to the general committee of arrangements, which will consist of more than 100 citizens of Pittsburgh, together with many from Allegheny and McKeesport, and the burgess of each borough in the county. Sub-committees will be formed from its members by Chairman Logan, who will instruct them as to what they will be expected to do.

The finance committee has already been appointed and is sending letters to 15,000 firms and individuals asking for contributions. The committee expects to get $25,000 and proposes to have such an affair as will require the expenditure of every cent of that amount. The committee of arrangements, which will meet at the call of Chairman Logan, is as follows.

Hard Work Now Begins.

Hard work now begins for all connected with the celebration. Recorder Brown will act with the committees, but desires it to be a celebration of the citizens, and not the city government.

Some of the boroughs and at least one of the cities are making arrangements for celebrations of their own, but as these consist mainly of fireworks in the evening they will not interfere with the acceptance of the invitation of the executive committee to co-operate with Pittsburgh in entertaining the chief magistrate of the nation. "I understand that Allegheny is making preparations for fireworks in the evening," said Recorder Brown, "but that ought not to interfere with the participation of that city in the county celebration. I think it is a good idea for them to have fireworks in the evening, as it will tend to attract a part of the great crowd, and that will have a salutary effect.

"The invitations to become members of the general arrangements committee are to be issued by the executive committee, and I think this is a much better way than to have the invitations issued by myself. Many people seem to connect many of my doings with politics, and we want every thought of that kind eliminated from this celebration. This is a celebration of the whole people and ought not to be spoiled by any thought of politics.

"We shall ask the railroad companies to make a cheap fare as far as Altoona, Youngstown and Canton—something like one fare for the round trip or a fare and a third, whatever we can get, and the result will be that thousands of visitors will come to Pittsburgh on the day of the celebration. On the Fourth I expect that I shall take charge as chief executive of the city and preside at the meeting when the address of the president is made."

TO WED A PITTSBURGHER.

Niece of President McKinley Is to Marry George Herbert Winslow of This City.

CLEVELAND, O., May 21.—(Special.)—Wedding invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Sarah Duncan, niece of President McKinley and daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Duncan of No. 190 Oakdale street, to George Herbert Winslow of Pittsburgh. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents June 4, at 8 o'clock. Miss Grace McKinley will act as her cousin's maid of honor. Dr. Evyline Heard of Pittsburgh will be best man.

Miss Duncan has devoted her life to teaching. The late president tried to induce her to live at the White House, but the gay life of the capital had no attraction for her. The death of the president delayed the wedding, which was to have taken place in the White House.

PLUMS TO PENNSYLVANIA.

A Neighbor of Senator Quay Gets the Alaska Judgeship—Chambersburg Man Goes to Havana.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt today, on recommendation of Senators Quay and Penrose, appointed two more loyal Republicans of the Keystone state to lucrative positions. The one of the most importance was that of Alfred S. Moore of Beaver, Pa., to be judge of the district court, district of Alaska, at $5,000 a year. Mr. Moore is a leading lawyer of Beaver and has long been a warm friend of Senator Quay. The position to which he was appointed was made vacant recently by when the president removed Judge Noyes for being implicated in mining claims litigation.

The other appointment was that of Henry P. Fletcher of Chambersburg, to be second secretary of the United States legation at Havana at $2,000 a year. Mr. Fletcher comes from a well-known family of Franklin county, and served two years in the Philippines as second lieutenant of the Fortieth regiment, United States volunteers.

FRANKLIN FARM, nestling among the Sewickley hills, was yesterday the scene of an event of twofold interest, the wedding of Miss Mary McMaster Laughlin, daughter of Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., and William Christopher Robinson, and the fifty-second anniversary of the marriage of the bride's grandparents, the Hon. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Jones. The unwonted spectacle of over 100 carriages filled with wedding guests trailing in a long procession from the Sewickley station out over the hills to Franklin farm, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, caused much interest and excitement.

The wedding guests, 250 of them, left Allegheny in a special train, arriving at Sewickley at 3 o'clock, where they were met by carriages and automobiles. After a ride of two miles over beautiful country roads shaded by forest trees, with here and there a glimpse of the Ohio river, Mrs. Jones' home was reached. The great house occupies a beautiful site and a commanding view of the surrounding country is had from its broad verandas, which almost encircle it.

To carry out the idea of a country wedding, the decorations superbly arranged, consisted of great branches of dogwood and flowering shrubs instead of tropical plants and hot-house flowers. Dogwood blossoms and a wealth of beautiful ferns constituted the chief decoration of the immense reception hall, where the marriage was solemnized. Doors and windows were opened to the breeze, and the fragrance of flowering fruit trees and rich lawns filled the house.

The bridal party gathered on the second floor and descended the wide staircase to the hall below. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. The bride was given away by her grandfather. The bridal party included the bride's sister, Miss Mary Laughlin, who was maid of honor. Barry Robinson, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The six bridesmaids were Mrs. John H. Ricketson, Jr., Miss Marguerite Singer, Miss Rebecca Darlington, Miss Elizabeth Chambers, Miss Louise Wood and Miss Virginia Lippincott of Philadelphia, and the ushers were Messrs. Stuart Robinson, a brother of the bridegroom; William B. Scaife, Thomas O'Connor Jones, Alan D. Wood, J. Walter Rhodes and Frank Ward Severance.

The wedding was a green and white one, the gowns of the bride and her attendants showing no other color. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white chiffon and duchess and pointe lace over white satin, the veil of lace falling in long folds to the edge of the train. She carried a large shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white sweet peas. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids wore dainty summer gowns of white batiste, trimmed with Irish lace, and large picturesque hats of white chiffon and straw, trimmed with wreaths of green leaves, and instead of bouquets they carried baskets of fragrant white lilies.

During the informal reception, which followed the ceremony, receiving with the bride and bridegroom were the bride's mother, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., and her grandfather and grandmother.

The wedding was also in the nature of a great house-warming for the Franklin Farm, the new summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones and their daughter, Mrs. Laughlin. It was the first large affair given there. The wedding dinner was served in the dining-room and adjoining rooms, some of the tables also being placed upon the wide verandas. They were decorated in pink and white. The bride's table was decorated wholly in white and green, white roses forming the large centerpiece with clusters of white carnations at each cover. The guests at the bride's table, in addition to the attendants, were Mrs. Joshua Walter Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Colt of Pittsfield, Mass.; Miss Whitney of New Haven, Conn.; John H. Ricketson, Jr., and the Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D.

In the evening the bride and bridegroom left for their wedding trip, which will be an extended one in the eastern states. After their return to Pittsburgh they will make their home at the Laughlin mansion in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny. The bride has been one of the most popular girls in fashionable circles in Pittsburgh, while Mr. Robinson has been prominent in the younger set, being one of the favorite leaders at the Monday night cotillions for several seasons. He is a son of George T. Robinson, the well-known iron manufacturer. The bride is the elder daughter of the late Alexander Laughlin, Jr., who was associated with her grandfather in the firm of Jones & Laughlins, iron manufacturers. The wedding gifts are among the finest ever seen in beauty and extent they have never been surpassed in Pittsburgh.

Preceding the wedding yesterday afternoon a breakfast was served for the bridal party and a few intimate friends.

Tyler—Anderson.

One of the most pleasant home weddings which has taken place in Beaver Falls this season, was that of James Anderton, Jr., and Miss Helen Tyler, last night at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Amos Bannister, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, officiated. Only the immediate relatives of both parties were present and the bride and groom were unattended. They have gone to housekeeping at once in a handsomely furnished residence the bridegroom had in readiness for his bride. The bridegroom is a member of the city council and also a member of the Anderton Brewing Company.

Horner—Shearer.

Miss Edith M. Horner, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Horner of Washington avenue, Braddock, and Frank P. Shearer, son of the late Frank Shearer of North Braddock, were married yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church, by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Reagle. The bridegroom is connected with the Braddock Machine & Manufacturing Company. After a wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Shearer will reside with the bridegroom's mother, No. 246 Atwood street, Oakland, this city.

The ingathering will take place at the next meeting of the chapter.

Ye Olde Folkes Concerte.

The choir of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church will give an old folks concert in the church, Collins avenue and Station street, East End, tomorrow evening. There will be a chorus of 40 voices. They will sing a number of old tunes with which the older generation are familiar, but which are not heard very frequently nowadays, as well as a number of solos, duets and quartets of an amusing nature. Besides the musical portion of the program seven bachelors and bachelor girls, have agreed to tell why they have not married.

Mrs. Oscar Babcock's Tea.

Mrs. Oscar Babcock gave a pretty afternoon tea yesterday, at her home in South Negley avenue, East End. Assisting her was a group of friends, including Mrs. Francis T. F. Lovejoy, Mrs. Omar Scott Decker, Mrs. Frank E. Moore, Mrs. Frederick Babcock, Mrs. Emmett Queen and Miss Marguerite Haymaker. The house was simply decorated. In the parlors were bouquets of American Beauty roses and jars filled with white peonies. Variegated cornflowers were the decoration of the tea table in the dining room.

President of General Assembly Accedes to Overtures from Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

TRACTS FOR HUNGARIANS

Appeal from Decision of Pennsylvania Synod Dismissed by Judicial Committee—Work of Foreign Missions Occupies Morning Session.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 21.—The report of the standing committee on publications and Sabbath school work was taken up by the Presbyterian general assembly this afternoon and adopted.

Among the recommendations was one calling upon the assembly to act favorably on an overture from the presbyteries of Allegheny and Pittsburgh to issue literature in the Hungarian tongue and also on one from the presbyteries of Dayton and Steubenville, to issue literature to instruct parents in the training of children. It was also recommended that the debt on the Witherspoon building, Philadelphia, the headquarters of the department, be raised.

The report on college aid showed receipts during the year $222,896 32 and disbursements $215,447 63. The report was adopted.

The assembly adopted a resolution disapproving Sunday opening at the Louisiana exposition.

Pennsylvania Case Settled.

The Rev. Henry C. Minton, chairman of the committee on bills and overtures, brought in a resolution providing for the sending of a delegation to the international council of the Alliance of Reformed Churches, which will be held in Liverpool in the summer of 1904. The basis of representation permits 60 or 70 commissioners.

The Rev. Howard Duffield, D. D., presided at the afternoon session. The judicial committee reported its decisions in several appeals by ministers from decisions of synods or Presbyteries.

Judicial case No. 1 consisted of an appeal of the Church of the Covenant at Williamsport, Pa., from the action of the synod of Pennsylvania and complaint of the pastors and elders against the synod and a memorial to the assembly. A commission was recommended by the judicial committee to try the appeal and complaint and the dismissal of the memorial was advised. The report was approved.

Resolution on Mormonism.

The Rev. Dr. C. MacLeod of Washington, D. C., offered a resolution at the morning session deploring the spread of Mormonism and commending Westminster college of Salt Lake City for its work in training workers in the Mormon field. No action was taken.

The Rev. Dr. C. H. Fenn of the presbytery of Peking, as chairman of the standing committee on foreign missions, presented the report of that committee. The report declared that last year was the best in the history of Presbyterian foreign missions. The receipts for the year were $1,128,577.

Resolutions were brought in by the committee calling upon the general assembly to give $1,250,000 to the board for the coming year.

At the Central Presbyterian church in the afternoon was held an informal conference of the women's board of home missions. There were in attendance about 140 delegates from 28 states. Resolutions were adopted denouncing Mormonism and polygamy and paying tribute to the life and work of Mrs. F. K. Pierson, secretary of the woman's board of home missions, who died in February last.

Miss Johnson to Assist Miss George.

Miss Selene Johnson, who is favorably remembered as leading lady with the East End theater stock company, was engaged yesterday by Manager W. A. Brady, to play the Baroness in the production of "Frou Frou," with Grace George, at the Alvin theater, next Saturday afternoon.

Will Build Six New Mills.

The Carnegie Sheet Steel Company will let contracts within a few days for installing six modern sheet mills in the new plant, the buildings for which are nearing completion at Heidelberg, near Carnegie. The contract will also be placed for two basic open hearth furnaces.

HUGE RIVAL OF DIAMOND MATCH IS CHARTERED

It Will Have $10,000,000 Capital, but Backing Interests Are Unknown.

IRON LABOR TOO SCARCE

Western Furnace Operators Declare Eight-Hour Day Is Out of the Question—May Will Be Banner Month for the Steel Combine.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 21.—According to reports, the Diamond Match Company is to have a very formidable rival in a company incorporated in New Jersey today under the name of the Consolidated Match Company. The capital stock of the new company is $10,000,000, of which $4,000,000 is 7 per cent cumulative preferred and $6,000,000 in common stock.

No information as to the identity of the interests back of the new match company could be obtained today. Attorney Frederick Seymour said very wealthy people are interested in the enterprise, among them several foreigners. The American interests are composed of eastern and western capitalists.

"We purpose to build a chain of factories at advantageous points throughout the United States," said Mr. Seymour. "New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities are now being considered."

No stock will be offered to the public at present. A prominent banking house has agreed to manage the underwriting of the stock. The entire proceeds from the sale of the common and preferred stock, the par value of both classes being $100, will be used in construction of the company's plants.

Eight Hours Out of the Question.

Operators of western furnaces are determined not to consider any demand the workmen may make for an eight-hour day. The operators take the position that this is an impossible request. To change the basis of labor from a twelve to an eight-hour shift would require an addition of nearly 30 per cent to the skilled forces, and the labor market could not yield this number of workmen even if the operators were willing to make the change. It is a fact everywhere recognized that labor is scarce. Not only would production be perforce decreased, but a number of furnaces probably would have to go out of blast. The pig iron situation is difficult enough as it is, owing to the anthracite coal strike.

Banner Month for Steel.

The management of the United States Steel Corporation expect that this will be the banner month of the company in point of earnings. Transportation facilities have been improved to the superior of which the corporation has been able to ship its material promptly. It is believed that the net earnings for May will be in the neighborhood of $13,000,000. A representative of a large steel concern today said:

"The production of steel is increasing rapidly, which is natural, in view of the new uses to which it is being put and the amount of new construction that is going on. A large amount of the surplus steel is now going into office buildings."

The fact that the United States Steel Corporation is taking contracts for structural material for delivery in 1903, and has purchased Bessemer iron calling for delivery in the first quarter of next year, leads manufacturers of iron and steel to believe that there will be little if any change in prices for 1903. A steel manufacturer is quoted as saying that he is of the belief that fully one-third of the earnings of the United States Steel Corporation are derived from the Carnegie plant.

Bridge Steel to Philippines.

It is announced that the American Bridge Company will begin shipping shortly some 3,000 tons of structural steel to the Philippines, under a contract with the United States government. The material is to be used in the construction of a new coaling station at Cavite. The amount involved exceeds $532,000.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Prospects are improving in the Tintic district, Utah. Concessions by the railroads and smelter companies have reduced the cost of handling and treating the low-grade ores from $4 to $5 a ton. There is very heavy tonnage of this class of ore in the camp that now can be handled at a good profit. The Star Con., Swansea and Uncle Sam have each 125,000 tons in sight. The South Swansea, Eagle and Blue Bell and Beck have 100,000 tons each, and measurements in the lower Mammoth, Ajax, Grand Central, Godiva and Centennial Eureka show from 10,000 to 55,000 tons each. The total value of the tonnage in sight in the district is estimated at $20,000,000.

Salt Lake capitalists have bought the Vulcan group at Rockton, Utah, for $35,000. The former owners, who live in Boston and Philadelphia, suspended work several years ago.

A letter from Portland says the Silver Button, which opened so inauspiciously, promises to be one of the best known in Southern Oregon for many years.

The large oil storage plant being established at Alameda Point by the Pacific Oil & Transportation Company, which will make Oakland harbor, Cal., the most prominent oil distributing center on the coast. The first tank for storage purposes, the foundation of which is being put in, will hold 1,500,000 gallons, and several others of similar capacity are to be constructed as rapidly as the tank warrants. Oil will be supplied for fuel for ships and cargoes to supply the western and northern trade.

The west drift of the Atlantic mine of the Aberdeen Copper Company at Lordsburg, N. M., ore has been encountered that carries values of $280 a ton in gold, silver and copper. The gold value is $60 a ton.

The Metal Markets.

There was another active day in copper at the New York metal exchange. The sales amounted to 250,000 pounds, including 100,000 pounds Lake, for August delivery at 12.37½c and 150,000 pounds of electrolytic in equal lots for June, July and August delivery at 12.32½c. This, together with an advance of 3-16c in the London quotation, caused an improvement of about ⅛c here. Thus Lake closed at 12.37½@12.62½c, electrolytic at 12.50@12.75c, casting at 12.25@12.35c, and standard for spot to August delivery at 11.85@12.00c. London closed at £55 for spot and futures. Tin was easier here at 29.75@30.00c. Lake closed 2s 15 shillings lower with spot at £136 5s and futures at £132 5s. Lead rules steady here and unchanged at 4½c, while London stood at £11 12s 6d. Spelter was unchanged at London, closing at £18 10s, whereas the New York market was higher at $4 55@4 60. Local iron prices were steady, with warrants nominal: No. 1 foundry, Northern, $19 50@20 50; No. 2 foundry, northern, $19 50@20 50; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $18 50@19 50. The foreign markets were about steady. Glasgow closed at 53s 10d and Middlesboro at 42s.

Wall Street Narrow and Professional

BROKERS SEEM ONLY WAITING ON STRIKERS

Anthracite Situation Affects Whole Market, but Hope of Settlement Holds Out.

CANADIAN PACIFIC BOOMS

Talk of a Corner and of Shipping Line in Its Interests Gives It Strength—Soft Coalers Benefit by Mine Trouble in the East.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 21.—The tone of resistence to depression was still manifest in today's stock market, notwithstanding its dull and narrow professional character. There was not much assistance in the way of strength derived from the coal stocks either, which were dull and sluggish all day until just before the close, when prices hardened there and elsewhere in the market. Yesterday's hopes that the activities of the civic federation were promising for a settlement of the strike were somewhat dashed by the aggrieved tone taken by the coal operators toward those activities. Wall street, however, maintains its conviction that the two sides to the struggle are not very far apart and both averse to a long and costly struggle. The consequence is a constant expectation of the announcement of a settlement. The conspicuous strength of Canadian Pacific and its affiliated lines continued today and was a notable influence on the whole market.

Talk of a Corner.

The strength of the stock was unexplained beyond floor room gossip of the imminence of a corner and a revival of the reports of a strong transatlantic steamship line in the interest of the line and to be subsidized by the Canadian government. Another sustaining factor was the wide advances of stocks in the usually inactive stocks and of minor railroad stocks available for combinations and absorptions. The demand for those stocks was stimulated by the details of the plan for taking over the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville in the joint interest of the Southern Railway and the Louisville & Nashville and the acquisition of the Ann Arbor in the interest of the Wabash. The stocks immediately concerned in those deals were rather heavy, but buying of a large number of other stocks could be traced to their influence. A jump of 21 points in Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling and of 5 points in the preferred were examples.

Soft Coalers Given Strength.

Some degree of strength was given to the soft coal carriers by the supposition that the continuance of the anthracite strike would lead to an increase of their traffic. There was less fear that the strike would spread to the bituminous coal trade. There was aggressive buying of Amalgamated Copper at intervals during the day. A further advance in the price of raw copper here and strength in the London copper market were supplemented by reports of great improvement in the trade. There were also rumors of a compromise of the conflict of interests in the trade. The foreign exchange market continued to show a yielding tendency in spite of the falling rate for money. This afforded relief from the apprehension that a fall in the money rate would lead to prompt exports of gold. London's hopes of an early peace in South Africa was an additional factor in the strength of the market, which was quite marked at the close of the day.

Bonds were dull but quite firm. Total sales, par value, $2,415. United States new 4s declined ½, the old 4s and the 3s ¼, and the 2s ½ per cent on the last call today.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day, 550,800 shares.

Anthracite strike adds dullness to the market, but there is still a belief that a settlement is pending.

Bituminous coal-carrying roads are affected by the strike, as they are expected to get more business.

Canadian Pacific stocks are strong on a reported corner, and on a belief that a transatlantic steamship line is being organized in the road's interest.

The whole market was dull and of a professional character.

Wall street the strength of the mar was generally maintained through- he day, and this helped to firm up cal board. But there was so little e business that the proceedings very professional, the total sales ding to less than 4,500 shares of and $23,000 bonds. The dullness be appreciated when it is seen e heaviest trading of the entire day ly 700 shares of United States Steel on, while the preferred sold only 125 s. The common closed at 40½, a f ½ and the preferred at 90½, a f ⅝. Westinghouse Airbrake was ½ higher at 184½ for 8 shares, but 183 was the best bid for regular lots, which offered at 184¼. Bank and trust stocks were dull and irregular, the trades being small. South Side Trust Company declined $1 to 111. There are various rumors of absorptions and mergers between banks and trust companies, but official denials were emphatic in each case, details being given elsewhere. Window Glass common was very dull, and ⅛ lower at 59¾. National Fire Proofing issues were entirely without sales, the common being easier at 31⅝ bid and 32 asked, 32 having been the closing bid Tuesday. Pittsburgh Stove and Range common sold $1 lower at $3 for 100 shares and the preferred was $1 higher at $18 for 200, though the stock was 20 bid Tuesday. In the bond department there was firmness and a fair demand, but little actual business. The close was intensely dull.

Official denial was made yesterday that any deal was on between the Pennsylvania Trust Company and the Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company for a combine. The matter was discussed some time ago, but Mr. Kennedy of the Pennsylvania Co. says his company is not now interested in any plans of the kind with any institution.

Near the opening the sale of 250 South Side Gas Company at 8 for 5 shares, rather odd lots to McMullin, was posted; this is the first sale of the stock ever recorded on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. A private sale of 150 shares of the same kind was also posted late Tuesday afternoon at $5. After yesterday's trade more was wanted at 5, with 6¼ asked.

The Kentucky Wagon Company raised its dividend to 10 per cent at the annual meeting last week, which is 2½ quarterly instalments. The stock capitalization was increased from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000 by the issue of $250,000 to the stockholders at 150. The money thus raised will be used in paying $100,000 of 6 per cent bonds and to paying off a floating debt of $200,000. The net earnings for the year were about 16 per cent.

At the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railway yesterday Henry C. Urner, Cincinnati; I. Z. Leiter, Chicago, and John P. Green, Philadelphia, whose terms expired, were re-elected directors. The report of J. C. Spencer, consulting engineer, showed the property to be in good condition. The report of the president says that the income for the year was $16,087,088 19. The expenses of operating and maintaining were $11,771,760 33. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the lessee, paid to the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago as rental for the year $4,315,327, leaving a profit to the lessee of $871,985 77.

"A Neat Slip in Air Brake—How Insiders Get Left," is the way the Wall Street Journal heads a yarn that will greatly interest local plungers. The story, appearing last month, April 21, the street was surprised to find New York Air Brake stock open up about 25 points, followed by large transactions at the advance, and finally soaring back to a lower range of prices on large transactions. No explanations have so far been given. There is a bit of news about this episode, however, which is now being told, that may help some to understand why they may be deceived. It seems that certain well-known western operators conceived the idea that they might use an option on Air Brake stock to avoid buying it in the open market. These people, whom they know well, and incidentally might make a quick turn in the stock market if the option failed. Their scheme worked well. They secured the option on a sizable block of Air Brake stock at $200 a share, good for a few weeks. They then gave the impression to certain people that this option meant a possible quick sale of the property to the Westinghouse people at $250 a share. It fired the enthusiasm of every insider, and a scramble for Air Brake stock followed. The western operators, who, it is said, had bought anything practically all the stock around 160, and bought it up to the night when they clinched the option. The ones who gave the option tried to get in the market, but, finding it was already stated of an opening price 25 points higher than the previous day's price. They got in, and the western men got out. There was enough money in that turn quickly to make the western operators desist from any further effort to carry on negotiations for the sale of an option to Westinghouse. Insiders, of course, have simply marked up the averages on their other holdings of Air Brake stock, but they say that if they can give another option there will be a money forfeit of large proportions in case the option is not exercised."

RELEASED FROM JAIL.

Two of the Men Arrested for Robbery in Crafton Are Given Their Liberty.

Alonzo Black and Edward Lawson, two of the seven men arrested for the robbery of Daub & Pressler's store in Crafton on the night of April 30, were released from jail this afternoon at the request of District Attorney John D. Robb. Informations charging felonious assault and batters and entering a building and committing a felony and larceny were lodged against Harry Kuntz, Martin Griffin, Frank Kennedy, Joseph Sullivan and Hary Kennedy. The informations were made before Alderman John Groetzinger, by the Crafton policeman who was injured in a fight with the robbers. A hearing will be given the prisoners on Monday.

Black, Lawson and Sullivan were committed by Justice of the Peace C. P. Engel of McKees Rocks. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon he went to the county jail with W. C. Stillwagon, attorney for Sullivan, who was prepared to furnish bail for his client. Assistant District Attorney Robb then appeared at the jail, and when the hearing was held asked that Black and Lawson be released. This defeated Sullivan's chance for relief.

The charges of being suspicious persons, on which the two Kennedys, Griffin and Kuntz were held, will be withdrawn. These four men were arrested by Allegheny detectives who are said to have been urged into action by the district attorney.

Oats and Shelled Corn Quotations Weaker

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

New Southern Sweet Potatoes in the Market—Home Lettuce Cheaper.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Arrivals of stock yesterday were much more numerous than on Tuesday and there was a further fractional decline in oats, while shelled corn was easier in the offerings, although receipts were not heavy. Millfeed is kept firm because of continued light stocks and steady demand, both here and in the west.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 32 cars hay, 4 cars straw, 1 car flour, 15 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 1 car feed; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 3 cars hay, 1 car straw, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 2 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 3 car hay. Total receipts, 69 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Groceries.

Nominal quotations for flour are the same as last week. The opening of the week and jobbers say business is fully up to what should be expected at the present time. Primary markets report corn products as dull, but hold steady in spite of the feeling of improvement in the speculative corn market. Raw sugars are firm, sellers refusing to make concessions in keeping with ideas of bidders, while refined sugars are steady. There is a volume of business being done at first hands being reported as very moderate. The supposition is that recent declines in sugar will be followed by active buying, and as soon as general demand becomes active, but so far this prospect has not affected the situation sufficiently to induce heavy buying on the part of jobbers. An easier tone is said to rule in the principal coffee market, while local prices are unchanged.

Canned Goods.

Baltimore advices are of a better demand for spot tomatoes, indicating that consumers are taking the article freely in spite of high prices. Canned peas have disappointed holders, trade this spring not having been up to expectations and stocks to be carried over will be greater than desired. Quotations for all aped goods remain unchanged.

Standard gas peaches, 90@95c; gallon pie peaches, $2 50@3 00; California L. C. peaches, $1 90@2 25; Maryland peaches, $1 25@1 75; California Y. ### Dried Fruits.

The crop of raisins in California is reported to be in excess of the last crop, largely exceed that of 1901, but whether it will be early or late depends upon the weather from this time on. Trade in all descriptions of dried and evaporated fruits is quiet, but quotations are steady and without important change.

Evaporated apricots, in bags, 11@12c; 25-lb boxes, 15@16c; apples, in bags, 5½@6c; 1-lb pkgs, 7@7½c; peaches, 8@12c; raisins, seeded, 1-lb pkgs, 9@9½c; raisins, Muscatels, 2 and 3-crown, $2 25 boxes, 5½@6c per lb; Ondenia Valencia, 8@8½c; California Valencias, 9½@10c; raspberries, 25@27½c; currants, cleaned, 5½ and 6c-lb pkgs, 7½@7½c; California prunes, 3½@5½c.

Fruits and Produce.

Old potatoes on track are selling at greatly reduced figures, while from stores quotations range from 85 to 95 cents a bushel, with some few claims of $1 but this latter price seems to be only occasional. The market is lower now than at any previous time this year. Southern sweet potatoes are arriving in the market and are said to be of unusually fine quality. Carrots, cucumbers and peas are all lower in price. Strawberries are selling yesterday by the limited quantity of offerings, quotations advancing slightly for very fancy. Receipts of North Carolinas are about done, Marylands have begun to really come in and Virginias, which are filling in the interim, are small, not commanding the attention of those shipped from other points.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

While no actual change has been made in butter quotations the Price Current issued on Monday ruling for an entire week, there has been an easier feeling for a day or two and some concessions are being made. Stocks are a little heavier and buyers are unwilling to pay as much. Cheese is very firm, sales last week at interior New York boards at market showing advances, though no change has yet been made in local quotations. # ITALIAN ENDS MURDER CASE BY PLEA OF GUILTY

SHOOTING ENDED A FIGHT

Rosario Marabelo Lost His Life by Accusing the Defendant of Being Too Intimate With His Sister-in-Law—Criminal Court Cases.

Dominick Pares, an Italian, pleaded guilty in criminal court to voluntary manslaughter for the killing of Rosario Marabela on November 10 last. He was placed on trial on the charge of murder, but shortly after the case of the defense opened pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter.

The killing occurred at the home of Carmen Marabela, a brother of the deceased. Pares and the dead man went to the home of Marabela and while there the dead man accused Pares of being intimate with his brother's wife. This offended Pares and a fight followed, during which Pares drew a revolver and fired two shots, one taking effect in Marabela's side. It penetrated the spinal cord. Marabela died five months after he was shot. Pares will be sentenced Saturday morning.

George Robinson pleaded guilty to the larceny of a pocketbook containing $48 from Fred Yanki of Etna and was sentenced to the workhouse for eight months.

Adam Long pleaded guilty to two charges of misdemeanor preferred by Samuel F. O'Brien. He was sentenced to the workhouse for 12 months. Long was charged with abusing his wife, Suretta, and his son Earnest, aged 4 years. It was alleged that he beat them severely and put them out of the house on one of the coldest evenings during last winter. The child suffered severely from the cold.

TRACTION COMPANY WINS.

First Class Townships' Control of Their Streets Decided by Judge Shafer.

Judge Shafer handed down an opinion in the case of Alexander Dempster against the United Traction Company to restrain the defendant from building a line on a road in North Versailles township, upon which road the plaintiff owns property. The court says the only question is whether or not in first class townships a street car track is an additional burden upon the owners of land, as it would be in second class townships.

The court further says that no one will contend that first class townships must pay damages to the owners of lands abutting upon streets upon which the municipality may place water mains, sewers, gas pipes, etc., and it is not supposed that water or gas companies having a right to lay pipes in the streets are bound to pay damages to property owners for the use of the streets any more than the municipality would be bound to do so.

The court says also that it cannot see why a street railway should be considered an additional burden to a municipality if gas and water lines and the like are not.

In conclusion the court declares it is of the opinion that first class townships have the same control over their streets as a borough has and the bill is dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff.

William Cunningham's Will.

Fort Wayne Railroad Pays the Penney Well

PROFIT OF $871,065, RECORD SINCE 1882

Annual Meeting of Pittsburgh Ft. Wayne & Chicago Stockholders Held in This City.

From the lease of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railway, the Pennsylvania made a profit of $871,065 77 the past year. This is the best record since 1882. In nine of the 20 years since that time the Pennsylvania has lost on the lease. In the years between 1869, when the road was leased, and 1882, however, the profits were large, so that the total result of the operations of the road has been profits of over $16,000,000. In addition it has received the interest on Fort Wayne stock it holds. The annual report of the president shows the income from operating the road was $16,057,088 10, and the expenses of operation and maintainence $11,771,769 33, leaving a surplus of $4,285,327 77. Of this the Pennsylvania company, as lessee, paid the Fort Wayne for retal $3,414,262. This is the guaranteed 7 per cent upon the stock and bonds of the company.

These figures came out yesterday when the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago stockholders was held in this city. The line is the backbone of the northwest system of the Pennsylvania's western lines. It runs from Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, to Chicago, the contributory lines all being owned by the Pennsylvania company directly. The directors whose terms expire this year were re-elected for the coming four years. These are John J. Green, Philadelphia; Levi Z. Leiter, Chicago, and Henry C. Urner of Cincinnati. The board will meet in about a week and reorganize by the re-election of Charles Lanier of New York as president and J. J. Haley of Pittsburgh as secretary and treasurer. The company will also issue to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company betterment stock to the amount of $1,418,390 for improvements made on the line during the year. This will give the Pennsylvania $24,033,384 of betterment stock of the Fort Wayne.

The financial history of the road is unique. Under the lease to the Pennsylvania for 999 years the holders of the original stock, amounting to $19,714,285, and the bondholders, are guaranteed 7 per cent interest. This stock is distributed widely, there being about 3,000 holders in all parts of the country. The few recent sales show a market value of $200 a share, but on account of the high interest guaranteed the sales are very rare. Since the lease, betterment stock to the amount of $22,615,000 has been issued, and all but about $1,225,000 of this is in the possession of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The bonds of the company still outstanding amount to $4,344,000, all of which are due in 1912. To redeem these when due there is in the sinking fund $2,626,140, with interest, will amount in 1912 to sufficient to retire all these bonds. The road will then be in the remarkable condition of a line 468 miles long, without a bonded debt of any kind and with 7 per cent guaranteed upon its stock. Inside of another year the whole line will be double-tracked, only 64 miles now being but one track wide. After that there will be less occasion for the issuance of special betterment stock.

Ft. Wayne Freight Men Meet.

The freight officials of the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines met yesterday in the office of General Freight Agent J. P. Orr of the Pennsylvania Company. Those present were Mr. Orr, and the following division freight agents: J. J. Koch, Pittsburgh; J. M. Steenberg, Toledo; H. F. Lowry, Cleveland; H. N. Bradley, Erie; H. A. French, Cambridge, O., and William Hodgdon, general freight agent of the Cleveland, Akron & Columbus.

PUTTING UP THE BARS.

In Discussing Immigration Bills Shattuc of Ohio Is Severe on the Canadian Loophole.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—The house began consideration of the immigration bill today. The principal speech was made by Mr. Shattuc of Ohio, chairman of the committee on immigration. He was especially severe in his condemnation of the manner in which immigrants are introduced through Canada and by Canadian railroad and steamship companies.

Mr. Underwood of Alabama gave notice of an amendment to provide an educational test, and much of the discussion was upon this subject.

By unanimous vote the house seated Charles R. Thomas from the Third North Carolina district, whose seat was contested by John E. Fowler. In the contest of ex-Representative John J. Lentz against Mr. Tompkins, from the Twelfth Ohio district, Mr. Olmsted of Pennsylvania explained the contradictory character of the testimony and the reckless charges of fraud indulged in. The resolution confirming Mr. Tompkins' right to the seat was agreed to. Similar action was taken confirming Mr. Rhea of Virginia to the right of the seat for the Ninth Virginia district, the contestant, James A. Walker, having died.

NEW YORK CENTRAL MEN END VISIT HERE

The Vanderbilt lines' passenger men ended their Pittsburgh visit yesterday afternoon and left for their respective headquarters. General Passenger Agent Daniels of the New York Central with Harry Parry, A. S. Hanson, M. C. Roach and M. H. Brown, got away early, while the others waited for the Buffalo express in the evening, and attended the ball game.

In the forenoon the officials called upon General Passenger Agent E. A. Ford and F. van Dusen, chief assistant of the Pennsylvania lines west, and later visited the various ticket offices. Lunch was taken at the Lincoln. Then a thorough inspection was made of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie terminal building, which Mr. Daniels called the "handsomest, most complete and most convenient general office building and passenger station on the Vanderbilt system."

As the result of the various conferences it is likely that a new train will be initiated by the Lake Erie to connect with the Lake Shore through express at Ashtabula especially for Boston business. It is also announced that the timecard change of the Vanderbilt system will be made on June 15, the same day as the Erie.

Railroad Clubs Will Meet.

The May meeting of the Railway Club of Pittsburgh will be held tomorrow at the Hotel Henry. The subject for discussion will be "Safety Appliances." "The Car Record Office," a paper by C. L. Gist, superintendent of transportation of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, will be read.

Tomorrow evening, at the rooms of the Pittsburgh Freight committee in the Publication building on Ninth street, an important meeting of the Pittsburgh Railroad club will also be held. This is the association of passenger and freight men.

T. P. A.'s to Meet in Montreal.

Notice has been received of the recommendation of the executive committee of the Traveling Passenger Agents' association to change the place of the coming convention from Philadelphia to Montreal, and to hold the convention on September 15 and 16. A special meeting has been called at Boston, June 14, to legalize this action.

New Ticket Agent at Conneaut.

General Passenger Agent E. D. Comstock of the Bessemer & Lake Erie, announces the transfer of E. M. Mowry to Exposition park at Conneaut until September 15. Mr. Mowry has been the ticket agent of the road at Osgood. W. A. Fuller has been made agent pro tem. at Osgood.

Southern Pacific Cuts Rates.

PORTLAND, ORE., May 21.—President E. H. Harriman of the Southern Pacific, who is now in this city, has announced that passenger rates on all Southern Pacific lines in Oregon will be reduced from 4 cents to 3 cents per mile immediately.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Howard Jolly, the new traveling passenger agent of the Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf at Cincinnati, spent yesterday in this city.

W. S. Howell, general eastern agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, spent yesterday with local representatives of the road.

The Wabash has proposed to the Pennsylvania and the Grand Rapids & Indiana, also a Pennsylvania line, to join in erecting a union passenger station at Ft. Wayne, Ind.
